Congress Adjourns After Passing Vets Compromise

SESSION IS ENDED EARLY IN MORNING

VOTE IS 45 TO 36

Only Eight Democrats Oppose Roosevelt As Final Vote Is Recorded.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(UP)—The emergency session of congress, summoned March 9 to grasp the country from the brink of economic chaos, was beaten into adjournment today by a smashing administration victory on reduction of war veterans' compensation.

The unprecedented peace-time session ended at 1:21 a. m.

The administration lashed its majority into grumbling order and jammed through the senate a few minutes after midnight a compromise on veterans' economy which was rejected 24 hours previously. The vote was 45 to 36.

A docile house of representatives speedily approved the bill, the net effect of which was to reduce total payments to veterans from over $900,000,000 to about $600,000,000.

Speaker Rainey and Vice President Garner then signed it, and the measure passed in this unexampled session was sent to the White House.

In three months and one week this congress enacted laws deeply affecting the welfare, pocketbooks and manner of life of every individual in the country.

Drive Launched

It launched a titantic drive against unemployment with measures designed to create work for 4,000,000 within the next three months by spreading employment in industry and starting vast public works.

It swept the country off the gold standard and authorized inflation by every conceivable method.

It hauled J. P. Morgan to Washington and forced him to divulge his innermost business secrets.

It launched a great farm relief experiment, legalized beer, passed two tax bills, voted $500,000,000 to feed and clothe the destitute, aided home owners, reformed the

PHYSICIANS TO END CONVENTION TODAY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 16.—Final sessions of the American Medical association's 84th annual convention were held here today, winding up a five day study of the battle against disease by the nation's leading physicians.

Many of the 5000 delegates at the convention said they would go to Chicago next week for medical week at the World's Fair and to attend the convention there of the American Association for Advancement of Science.

In the concluding sectional meetings today, Dr. Luke Hunt, of the John McCormick Institute for infectious diseases, Chicago, described new discoveries in treatment of scarlet fever.

NEWPORT ASKS FEDERAL FUNDS FOR PORT WORK

Total Of Nearly Two Million Asked For Improvements To Harbor

NEWPORT BEACH has filed application for $1,722,600 federal funds for improvements to Newport harbor, the blanks being signed by officials late yesterday.

R. L. Patterson announced yesterday that he has drawn plans for improvements to the harbor and jetty extension.

The fund is sought under the new National Industrial Recovery act and would provide work for hundreds of men.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, which has been acting in sponsoring development of the harbor, had asked the Newport city council to hold a special meeting for the purpose of making official request for federal harbor funds. Later it was found that a special meeting would not be necessary and blanks were then filled out.

Supervisors of eight Southern California counties met in Los Angeles today, when a $68,000,000 public construction program was outlined. Willard Smith represented the Orange county board and made application for the $1,722,600 for Newport harbor and for $240,000 for general construction.

KELLER FALLS OVER HURDLE, LOSES OUT

CHICAGO, June 16.—(UP)—Jack Keller, of Ohio State, one of the world's greatest hurdlers, was eliminated in the first heat of the 120-yard high hurdles when he stumbled and fell in clearing a hurdle at the National Collegiaee track and field met today. Keller tied the world's record of 14.1 at the Big Ten met a month ago.

Keller, competing in his last meet in college competition, hit the third to last hurdle, and crashed to the cinderpath. He was out in front when he fell.

Hurdles heats were won by Bacon, Dennison; Casper, Texas Christian; Moreau, Louisiana State, and Meier, Stanford.

Harper of Southern California had the best mark in the shot put, 50 feet, 9 inches.

Metcalfe, Marquette; Johnson, Illinois Normal; Starr, Oregon, and Parsons, Southern California, won heats in the 110-yard dash. Johnson's time was 9.8 sec.

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE TAKES UP CURRENCY PROBLEM

U. S. INDUSTRY LEADERS MEET IN WINDY CITY

Assembly To Meet Challenge of Roosevelt's Recovery Program

CHICAGO, June 16. — (UP) — Leaders of American industry assembled here today to meet the challenge of President Roosevelt's unprecedented program for business recovery.

One group was composed of 75 railroad executives, including presidents of most of the nation's major railway systems. Another represented 99 per cent of all the country's oil producing companies. The third spoke for bituminous coal producers who control the fortunes of thousands of miners in vast coal fields.

The groups met to decide what to do about the new industrial control act.

Co-incident with an announcement by directors of more than 200 railroads that a 12½ per cent pay reduction for their 1,000,000 union employes will become effective November 1, rail executives gave qualified support to the 1933 railroad act, pledged full support to the railroad co-ordinator authorized by the bill, and offered co-operation with the interstate commerce commission which is granted new powers.

Issue Statement

Officials of the Association of Railway Executives issued a statement promising support, but pointing out that "the opportunities for accomplishing the acts state purpose are greatly restricted by its terms as finally enacted."

Executives said they regarded the new act as "only an emergency treatment of certain phases of the national transportation problem."

A fair system of operation under the new act was sought by

RILEY NOT TO SEEK GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 16.—(UP)—Ray Riley, veteran state controller, today offered to put up a bond of any amount—providing somebody else would pay the premium — guaranteeing he wouldn't be a candidate for governor.

The official was exasperated over reports he planned to coast into gubernatorial candidacy on the crest of the publicity wave attending the Riley-Stewart tax revision plan. The plan comes before the people for vote June 27.

Riley has persistently and periodically denied any immediate political ambitions other than being reflected to the position he now holds. He emphatically denied late yesterday his espousal of the tax revision program was dictated in any measure by political calcuations.

LAMSON'S HEARING IS RESUMED TODAY

SAN JOSE, June 16.—(UP)—Revelation of two new developments supporting the state's case were made today as authorities resumed the preliminary hearing of David Lamson, charged with the murder of his wife, Allene.

The most important bit of new evidence was the disclosure that a piece of pipe found in the ashes of a bonfire tended by Lamson was not completely blacked by the fire. Half of the pipe escaped the blaze, prosecuting investigators said, and showed traces of stains which Dr. Frederick Proescher, pathologist, established as human blood of the same type as that of Mrs. Lamson.

Seeks Doctor At Conclave In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, June 16.—(UP)—Five thousand physicians attending the American Medical association convention here were assembled in a huge auditorium listening attentatively to a serious discussion on treatment of disease.

A rest room attendant burst into the auditorium and cried:

"Is there a doctor in the house?"

The attendant said she had difficulty obtaining medical aid when a young woman fainted.

ROOSEVELT TO START CRUISE THIS EVENING

Chief Executive Will Take First Real Vacation Since Taking Office

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today prepared to carry out without the slightest delay the remaining features of his gigantic emergency legislative program preparatory to departure at 8:30 p. m. on the first real rest period he has had since assuming office March 4.

The president went to the executive offices with the intention of cleaning up all the pending business before him and to sign the bills passed by congress in its closing hours.

Mr. Roosevelt, who has kept at his desk by delay of congress in adjourning, hopes to be able to sail for Marion, Mass., tomorrow morning on the first leg of a cruise up the Atlantic coast that will take him as far as Campo Bello, N. B., and Highland, summer home that belongs to his mother.

WOMAN USES WHIP ON PAIR SWINDLERS

OAKLAND, Calif., June 16, — (UP)—Two men who assertedly were beaten with a whip by a 60-year-old grandmother who claimed they were responsible for her losing $7000 in a restaurant venture, refused today to file a complaint against her after she was arrested.

The woman, Mrs. W. S. Davis, struck W. B. Chaplin, attorney, and Reno W. Hoefler, manager of the restaurant, when she encountered them in a lobby of a building.

A spectator called a policeman who arrested Mrs. Davis. She was released when the men refused to take action.

STOCK MARKET IN GAIN AFTER EARLY SETBACK

Stocks Advance From One To Three Points; Steel Up Fractions

NEW YORK, June 16.—(UP)—Decision to omit a stabilization committee to peg the dollar during the world economic conference brought in heavy short covering near the close of the stock market today and prices rebounded after a sharp decline.

American Telephone led the recovery which extended to net gains of 3 points. Telephone sold down to 120½ early in the day. Later it rebounded to 125 where it was up 4 points. It eased from that level before the close.

Other issues to make substantial recoveries included many in the building division—issues whose companies would profit by the government construction plans. New York Shipbuilding issues made new highs on the announcement of a big shipbuilding program by the navy department.

Chrysler led a rise in the motor division, reaching 27½ up 1⅝ where it was within a shade of its high for the year. General Motors rallied fractionally. Auburn recovered part of an early loss of 5 points.

Homestake Mining touched 201 off 14 points and then soared to 222 where it was up 7 points for the day. Other gold mining issues rallied in a narrower range.

Steel Common ranged between 53⅜ and 51, against a previous close of 51½. Other steels were firm.

DuPont rose nearly 2 points net; Postal Telegraph preferred a point; National Distillers more than 2 points; American Smelting nearly 3; New York Shipbuilding 3 points; Johns Manville more than 2; Allied Chemical 3; International Cement 3; Electric Power and Light more than 2; and Consolidated Gas 2.

Oil companies in most sections of the country announced increases in the price of gasoline to meet the new tax imposed under the National Industry Recovery act. Several companies increased their prices on crude oil. Oil shares were steady to firm with Standard of New Jersey up more than a point.

Omission of the stabilization committee by the World Economic conference was seen as a factor making for extension of the inflation program here, an item that would boost commodities and stocks. Late in the day the pound sterling soared to $4.08 up 5¾.

Business news was favorable.

R. F. C. APPROPRIATION FOR COUNTY IN JUNE DOUBLED

Orange county's unemployment relief program was doubled today by Welfare Director Byron V. Curry on receipt of word that $56,000 has been appropriated to the county for relief work during the current month instead of the original amount which was 28,000.

Curry talked to Lewis Hilborn, at Sacramento, by telephone today and was assured that the county would receive the extra money. Hilborn is taking the place of R. C. Bannion, state relief director, during his trip to Washington.

Upon receipt of the word, Curry immediately ordered doubling of the crews at work on various projects in the county today which will mean that 3600 men will be given six days work at $2.50 a day this month instead of 1800 men.

The second largest project in the relief program in Orange county was started this morning with a crew of men put to work on the Irvine park bridle trail.. More than twice the original number of men were put to work than was planned on this project. Thirty were scheduled to start work on the project.

At the same time, Curry announced the receipt of a telegram from Brannion stating that Roy Pilling, representing him, would arrive in Santa Ana Wednesday morning for a conference with the board of supervisors and the county auditor to discuss Orange county relief plans for the ensuing fiscal year. The meeting will be held in the courthouse at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

Committee Led By Cox Holds Meet

Leaders Decide Not To Establish Committee On Stabilization

LONDON, June 16. — (UP) — World economic conference leaders pressed ahead today on solution of monetary problems, but at the last minute decided against establishing a committee on stabilization of currencies.

The conference monetary committee, headed by James M. Cox of Ohio, worked on the currency issue while American and British representatives conferred at the Bank of England on temporary exchange stabilization of the dollar and pound.

The monetary committee decided to recommend that the conference set up two committees, one to consider temporary measures for monetary reconstruction, another to consider permanent measures.

It also was decided to create a stabilization committee, but after further discussion, the committee significantly changed its decision and decided against the stabilization committee.

It was assumed the omission of a stabilization committee was intended to permit the financial experts and heads of central banks to proceed with their private negotiations for an equalization agreement, to be ratified later by the governments concerned.

The monetary commission decided the first commitee, on temporary measures for reconstruction, would consider credit policy, price levels, limitation of currency fluctuations, exchange control, problems of indebtedness and the resumption of lending.

The second sub-committee would consider "permament measures for re-establishment of an international monetary standard,"—specifically, the functions of central banks and the co-ordination of their policies on monetary reserves and silver.

ARKANSAS BANK IS HELD UP, ROBBED

BLACK ROCK, Ark., June 16.—(UP)—Three unmasked men robbed the First National Bank here of between $4,000 and $5,000 today and escaped after kidnaping the cashier, L. B. Sharp.

Sharp was released about three miles from here. The bandits fled in a Plymouth sedan bearing Missouri license plates. Sharp was alone in the bank at the time. The robbery was discovered by J. E. Krone, vice president, who entered the bank a few minutes after the robbery.

TWO PERCENT SALES TAX IS PREDICTED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 16.—(UP)—Enactment of at least a two per cent sales tax during the midsummer session of the legislature appeared reasonably certain today, after two state officials representing opposing ideas, went on record as favoring the levy.

Director of Finance Rolland Vandegrift recommended the sales tax to help balance the budget. Its revenue, $60,000,000 for the biennium would be distributed as follows under the law: $47,000,000 to clean up the existing revenue deficit; $17,000,000 turned back to counties for local tax relief.

SEEKS TO RESTRAIN PICTURE

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—(UP)—Frank Dolan, writer, today charged that the current motion picture, "Ann Carver's Profession," was taken from a story he had written, and sued for an injunction to restrain the sale of the film.

Dolan said his story, "Hero," was submitted last September to the Columbia studio and rejected. He estimated the picture would bring profits in excess of $250,000, and demanded an accounting.

1500 PERSONS FLEE HOMES AS WATERS RISE

Efforts Started To Force Back Flooded Rivers In Washington

KELSO, Wash., June 16.—(UP)—Fifteen hundred refugees from the flood that swept South Kelso yesterday arose from bivouacs in vacant houses of Kelso and Longview and the Kelso High school today to launch a determined effort to force back waters of the Columbia, Cowlitz and Coweeman rivers that swept around 500 residences.

County Commissioner George Umbaugh took charge of a large crew of workmen on the broken dike. A pile driver was brought up the Coweeman river to the 250 foot gap. Two lines of piling were to be driven and dirt was to be filled in between them. The new dike may be finished by tonight, Umbaugh estimated.

The water reached a high stage of from two to 10 feet last night when an exceptionally high tide brought a new surge from the unruly Columbia. In the early morning hours the water dropped several inches and no additional damage was anticipated.

Citizens and officials turned attentions to aiding refugees. The Kelso High school building was thrown open. More than 400 persons, men, women and children, slept and were fed there.

Kelso police opened every vacant house in Kelso and installed a family in each. Longview granted the same courtesy to flood sufferers.

Throughout the night citizens deputized as patrolmen cruised through the flooded area in patrol boats to prevent looting.

A strict watch was being kept over the area today. No one was permitted to enter unless his business was known.

GLASS BANK BILL IS SIGNED TODAY

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(UP)—The Glass Stagall bank reform bill with its unprecedented provisions for progressive federal guarantee of bank deposits after January 1, 1934, became law today when President Roosevelt signed the measure.

The bill's enactment brought to conclusion a long fight by Senator Glass, Dem, Va., for a federal bank act carrying reforms which he has considered essential to strengthen the American banking system.

President Roosevelt laughingly said as he signed the bill:

"This bill has more lives than a cat. A cat has nine lives. This bill was killed 14 times."

PLANS MADE FOR SEARCH ALONG COAST

No Report Of Texan Made Since He Hopped Off For Nome Wednesday

FOG SHROUDS OCEAN

May Have Landed At Isolated Siberian Village, Is Hope Now Held Out

NOME, Alaska., June 16.—(UP)—Fog-shrouded skies today hid the fate of James Mattern Texas flier unreported on his 'round-the-world flight since he took off from Khabarovsk, Siberia for Nome at 2:30 p. m. (CST) Wednesday.

He had been expected here at 9 a. m. (CST) yesterday.

Plans for a search were discussed. Two things kept them from becoming definite. One was the dense fog over the Bering Sea and along the Alaskan and Siberian coasts. The other was the vast area that would have to be covered. If Mattern changed his course and then came down, a search could continue for months.

Airmen here believed the Texan encountered fog as far south as the Aleutian island chain. He probably faced hours of blind flying, they said.

Mattern may have landed at some isolated Siberian village. Possibly he veered from his course far from Nome to strike for the Alaskan mainland. He may have pressed on to the interior of Alaska toward Fairbanks when fog prevented him landing here. He possibly landed on one of the numerous unpopulated islands in the Bering sea.

Residents of Nome, they recalled that other aviators have encountered trouble on the route, but that none met death.

Don Moyle and Cecil Allen, flying the northern route from Tokio to San Francisco, disappeared off the Siberian coast. They were given up for lost. Days later they landed in Alaska. They had run out of fuel, "pancaked" down on a remote Siberian village, and obtained gasoline from a soviet trading vessel that touched the hamlet.

M'BRIDE CONFIDENT SOUTH TO STAY DRY

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(UP)—Superintendent F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon league today expressed confidence that the South would remain dry if left free to vote its own sentiments. Replying to Postmaster General Farley's predictions of repeal victories in the South, McBride said:

"If Mr. Farley believes that sentiment in the South is wet, will he permit this sentiment to be expressed without coercion by the political machinery which he controls?

"I have just returned from Alabama where I conferred with dry leaders from eight southern states. It is my conviction that the only danger of repeal in any of the southern states is the threat of outside political pressure through party organization."

PRESIDENT SIGNS RECOVERY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(UP)—President Roosevelt signed the industrial recovery bill today, formally putting into effect the key measure of his economic rehabilitation program, a plan for bringing back to employment millions of jobless and regulating the industrial life of the nation.

Broad unprecedented powers are given to President Roosevelt to regulate industry as a means of preventing overproduction, eliminating cut-throat competition, shortening work hours and spreading labor.

In addition the measure provides for a vast public works program in which $3,300,000,000 in federal funds will operate to start new building construction, flood control, highway, river and harbor improvements and new ships for the navy.

CONGRESS ENDS SESSION EARLY THIS MORNING

bank system and moved to reorganize the railroads.

With fewer words of debate than in the past have been uttered in behalf of grasshopper eradication, it appropriated in one bill the sum of $3,600,000,000, mostly for public works—enough to have paid government expenses for three pre-war years.

To President Roosevelt was voted more power than has been gained by any other man by consent of a representative legislative body.

A moment before adjournment the congress received the thanks of the President. A letter from the White House expressed appreciation for sincere and wholehearted cooperation.

Senate Adjourns

"I move that the senate do now adjourn sine die," rumbled the deep voice of Senate Majority Leader Robinson after the President's letter had been read. It was 1:12 a. m. Nine minutes later Speaker Rainey banged his gavel down for the last time in the house and the show was over there too.

A mere $30,000,000 was the center of dispute which kept congress in session from Saturday until today. Compared with other sums which this congress juggled, the amount was small. But it affected war veterans and thereby attained tremendous political significance.

The argument originated in the act approved late in March authorizing President Roosevelt to effect unlimited economies. He soon ordered veterans' compensation clipped some $420,000,000 from the $950,000,000 figure attained by the former soldiers in the lush boom days.

Protest compelled the administration to modify the reduction when the independent offices bill containing the veterans' appropriation reached the house there was a rebellion which compelled the administration to give way again. The senate demanded still more. A final administration compromise eased the drastic regulations which had virtually removed Spanish-American War veterans from the pension polls.

President Roosevelt stood pat on those concessions which curtailed the reductions by about $100,000,000. But the senate with the aid of 19 bolting Democrats defied his veto threats Wednesday night and voted $30,000,000 more. The house supported the president.

CIVILIAN CORPS FULL QUOTA NEAR

The Ninth Corps Area, comprising eight western states, will soon be operating with its full quota of 105,000 Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees commanded by 25,000 officers and enlisted men of the army.

Of this number of recruits, 82,000 have been shipped in from other corps areas and 23,000 have been enrolled in the west.

FILM STAR IN SEARCH FOR 50 NOVICE GIRLS

Joan Crawford, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, is searching for 50 girls who have never appeared in pictures to work with her in her new picture, "Dancing Lady," according to information received from studio officials today by Lester Fouutain, manager of the Fox theater here, in a telegram.

No show experience is required, but the girls to be hired must be from five feet five inches to five feet eight inches tall, weighing from 120 to 130 pounds. Beauty of face and figure is imperative. A few girls are needed from five feet two to five feet five inches, weighing from 110 to 120 pounds who can dance.

Girls selected will be given immediate employment. All applicants are to report at the casting office, Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer studio, Culver City, between 5 and 8 p. m. Monday, June 19. Girls who have previously worked in motion pictures or who are registered with any studio or central casting bureau are not eligible.

ACTRESS' FURNITURE SEIZED

HOLLYWOOD, June 16.—(UP)—Gloria Swanson, film actress, may find her home stripped of its furniture and other trappings when she returns from Europe.

The effects, valued at $50,000, were impounded by sheriff's deputies, acting on a writ of execution after the actress lost a $7625 judgment to a New York importer last October. The writ ordered the furnishings sold at public sale next Thursday.

SEEK DAMAGES FOR INJURIES IN AUTO CRASH

An action to recover damages for injuries said to have been received in an automobile accident was filed in superior court today by Anna Kopsho, Lucille Kopsho, a minor by Joseph D. Kopsho, and Joseph D. Kopsho jr., a minor by Joseph D Kopsho, against the defendant, Lewis E. Alden.

The complaint charges that Mrs. Kopsho was a passenger in an automobile driven by her husband on Lincoln boulevard east of Cypress on November 12, 1932, when the defendant crashed into the car. Alden is accused of driving his car in a negligent and reckless manner.

Mrs. Kopsho claimed she was knocked unconscious and suffered other injuries when thrown against the interior of the car, for which injuries she asks $15,000 besides $130 for medical costs.

Lucille Kopsho, 16, charges that she also was knocked unconscious and received a broken collar bone, a deep cut and bruises and lacerations, for which she asks $3500 damages with $75 for medical care.

Joseph D. Kopsho jr., 10, through his guardian, asks for $2500 damages for injuries claimed to have been received in the accident, besides $55 for medical care.

TWO DIVORCES, ANNULMENT OF RITES SOUGHT

Two suits for divorce and another asking for annulment of a marriage were filed in superior court today.

Charging desertion and failure to provide for her and a minor child, Bessie M. Berry has filed suit for divorce against her husband, Willard E. Berry.

The couple was married in October, 1921, and separted December 5, 1930. Because she believes her husband may try to interfere with the custody of the child, Mrs. Berry asks in the complaint that she be granted custody of the six-year-old girl and that her husband pay a reasonable sum for the support of the child.

Another divorce suit charging a husband with desertion was filed by Anna Grace Richards against her husband, G. Newton Richards. The couple was married in Santa Barbara in June, 1926, and separated on June 6, 1932, in Santa Ana.

Seeking to annul her marriage to Paul Francis Sutton, Leona Mae Sutton has filed suit in superior court., The plaintiff alleges that at the time of marriage, which took place in Yuma, Arizona, in May, 1931, the defendant had another wife living.

HERE'S SOMETHING TO CACKLE ABOUT

Mrs. Viola D. Clark, who lives on the Huntington Beach Mesa, has an ambitious White Leghorn hen, which every other day produces an egg of unusual dimensions. Yesterday the fowl laid an egg which measures 7⅞ inches by 6¼ inches. According to her owner, the hen has been making these generous contributions to the Clark supply of eggs for the past year and a half since Mrs. Clark became her owner.

The hen is three years old and she is said to have begun laying large eggs on alternate days at the beginning of her career as a layer.

V.F.W., Auxiliary Social Tonight

Ernest L. Kellogg Post No. 1680, V. F. W., and Auxiliary, will hold its regular monthly social evening tonight at the K. of P. hall, it was announced today.

The event will start with a covered dish dinner at 6:30 o'clock, to be followed by brief business sessions which will be followed by card games and other entertainment.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 16. (To the Editor of The Register:) Well, I had a tough time communicating with you all today. I first wrote one demanding the other 90 per cent of the debts. Then I got to thinking that maybe we better grab the 10 per cent before they changed their minds. So I just finally decided that Roosevelt would have to handle it alone. I refuse to enter into it. A debt argument is just like a religious one, it's a mighty good thing to stay out of. Everybody's mind is made up already.

When that little New England Yankee Calvin Coolidge said "They hired the money, didn't they?" he covered all the ground.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

The chief problem confronting coal men was the fact that one-fifth of the nation's output is mined by union labor and the rest of the 300,000,000-ton production is dug by non-union men. Attempts to establish minimum wages and working hours over all the nation's coal fields would result in boundless difficulties, officials pointed out. It was believed the operators' association would seek a general formula, leaving individual problems up to regional officials.

Oil Industry

The oil industry, like coal, sought a working code to solve competitive and price problems. Axtel J. Byles, president of the American petroleum industry, reviewed the industry's major problems, and J. Edge Prew, vice president of the Sun Oil company, was named chairman of the oil executives' meeting.

The oil men's code, as tentatively drawn up, followed the major principles of the industrial act. It pledged the industry to "eliminate unfair competition, insure conservation of petroleum resources, eliminate unfair trade practices, establish fair and adequate wages, enlarge purchasing power and protect the consuming public from excessive prices."

The code took note of the fact that production of petroleum in excess of consumption is contrary to conservation principles of the United States, and urged that a balance be kept between production and consumption. It defined unfair competition as production of more petroleum than the maximum set by officials empowered under the industrial act to limit output. It also held that large imports of crude petroleum constituted unfair competition.

Further provisions were that wells should be drilled only upon receipt of permits, that no petroleum be sold at less than specified price and that enforcement of regulation provisions be left in the hands of President Roosevelt.

As a restriction of expansion of the industry, the code provided that no one deal in petroleum without a permit issued by authority of the president.

DEFENDANT IS NOT HARDING RELATION

The late Foster W. Harding whose widow, Mrs. Frances Harding, was named in a recent foreclosure suit filed by Mrs. Charity Remsberg, former sister of the late President Warren G. Harding, was not related to either President Harding or Mrs. Remsberg, according to E. E. Remsberg.

ROOSEVELT TO START CRUISE THIS EVENING

He will go from Washington to Boston and motor from Boston to Marion, stopping en route at Groton School where two of his sons, Franklin jr. and John, are students. Originally the plans called for the president to be at Groton today for the graduation exercises at which Franklin received his diploma.

Mrs. Roosevelt went to Groton, however, for the ceremonies having been joined at New York by her daughter, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall.

From Marion the president will sail aboard the Amberjack, a sloop, up the coast stopping at Portland, Me., June 22 where his two sons now at Groton will join him and their brother James for the remainder of the trip.

JOHN DUNLAP TO HEAD J. C. ALUMNI

John "Sky" Dunlap was elected president of Santa Ana Junior college alumni association for the next year at the annual meeting held last night in the college Y hut. Miss Florence Brownridge was elected vice president, Miss Jeannette Lutes, secretary and Joe Warner, treasurer. Bob Williams presided during the evening.

Miss June Arnold, program chairman, announced a program which included Chinese songs presented by Mrs. Ruth Swanson Lykke appearing in costume. Other numbers offered were readings by Jeanette Bodeman and Jeanette Lutes; trumpet solos by Harold Lutes accompanied at the piano by Halstead McCormac. Thomas H. Glenn discussed the values of education and of an alumni association. Refreshments were served by the Misses Mary Ford, chairman, June Arnold, Mary Louise Wallace and Roberta Eley.

Scholarship At Stanford Given Lillian Hurwitz

Completion of her first two years' work at Stanford University with high scholastic rating has won for Miss Lillian Hurwitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurwiz, 1620 North Broadway, a $300 Cap and Gown Scholarship for her junior year's studies, it was learned today.

This new scholarship is awarded on the basis of high scholastic attainment to about the upper tenth of those completing lower division work, it was stated in the letter notifying the Santa Ana girl of her achievement.

Miss Hurwitz entered Stanford University following her graduation from Santa Ana high school. During her freshman year, she won a scholarship for the second year work which she has just completed. She has been doing outside work to assist in meeting other expenses.

A COMMON SIGHT WHEN THE FIRST NATIONAL STARTED IN 1886!

Believe it or not, there was once an Artesian Well where the W. H. Spurgeon building now stands! These wells were one of the wonders of Orange County when The First National Bank was founded in June 1886! Our idea of high life then was to go sight-seeing behind a team of sleek fast-steppers and take in all of the big Artesian wells like the one above, near Westminster, flowing 90 miner's inches, or a stream 9 inches in diameter by 10 inches high! Orange County was really wet in those days! (with water, if we must explain!)

of faithful service this month!

Since June, 1886, The First National Bank has won and kept the confidence and co-operation of all, achieving unassailable strength, safeness and soundness.

LEADER STATE FARM BUREAU REVEALS HOPE

Real prosperity is coming to the nation through the farm relief legislation passed by Congress, R. W. Blackburn, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, told delegates to the thirty-second annual convention of the California State Mutual Fire Insurance Companies, yesterday, in Laguna Beach.

Blackburn was a member of the conference held in Washington that framed the legislation and told the inside story of how it came about. He declared that the buying power of 32,000,000 farmers and 32,000,000 additional persons dependent upon them for support will be brought back when Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture gets the plan in full operation, and this will enable the wheels of industry to turn in full force once more.

Prices on farm products, Blackburn said, will be brought up to parity with the prices of industrial products, and the balance will be maintained. If industrial prices go up, so will farm prices. Seven basic farm products have been taken as a foundation for the price-fixing program, but the secretary has power to deal with any product.

At the annual meeting of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Oscar W. Smith of Santa Barbara was elected president; Mrs. Grover Mahon, Stockton, vice president; Mrs. F. E. Jasper, Napa, secretary.

A barbecue was enjoyed last night at Irvine Park. Late this afternoon the convention will close with the election of officers.

RED CROSS CLOSES LOCAL WAREHOUSE

With the completion of distribution of Red Cross flour in the area served by the Santa Ana Red Cross chapter, the warehouse on Fifth between Main and Bush streets was closed yesterday.

There is no more Red Cross flour in sight for distribution here, it was announced by Terry E. Stephenson, chapter chairman, and therefore no further need for the warehouse.

The flour which has been distributed by the Red Cross during the past year as a relief measure, was milled and distributed by the Red Cross from wheat furnished by the government.

During the past year a total of 25,335 sacks containing 24 1-2 pounds of flour and 9114 49-pound sacks have been distributed in the southern part of the county by the Santa Ana Red Cross chapter.

SECOND FORGERY VICTIM REPORTS

Discovery that a second service station operator had accepted a fictitious check from a man who gives a hard luck tale and buys an inner tube, has been made by Santa Ana police with the filing of a report by S. M. Patterson, 115 East Fifth street.

Patterson stated that the man, who gave the name of John F. Lewis, cashed a check for $5.75 signed by R. F. Chandler. He took $4.82 in change and disappeared. The forgery was discovered by Bank of America officials.

The General Petroleum company reported a similar case this week on a fictitious check made out in Chandler's name to R. A. Cook. Both checks were passed on June 8 and for the same amount.

NEW S. A. REGISTER CARRIER ARRIVES

Candy and cigars were passed around to employes of The Register today by Roscoe M. Conklin, circulation manager, on the occasion of the arrival of a son in the family at the Santa Ana Valley hospital this morning.

Discussions as to the name to be given to the young son and heir are still raging in the Conklin household and no compromises have yet been made.

SOCIETY

Charming Easterner Is Incentive For Smart Afternoon Event

No event of the social season in Llaguna Beach has surpassed the brilliant formal reception and tea given at Hotel Laguna in "Our Village" this week by Mrs. William V. Mathews, president of the Garden Club, in honor of Mrs. Heratio King Gray of Brooklyn, N. Y., who recently arrived in Laguna Beach to pass the summer months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Andrews.

The reception was held in the spacious sun room of the hotel, the assisting hostesses being Mrs. Hiel G. Rider, Mrs. Maurice B. McMillan, Mrs. R. L. McCrea, Mrs. Frank D. Hevener, Mrs. J. Royster Helm, Mrs. Thomas L. Hosmer, Mrs. Leonard C. Jones and Mrs. Lloyd J. Seilset.

Tea was served in the main dining room, which like the sun room had been artistically decorated for the occasion. The hostesses took turns in pouring. The glorious flowers of late spring blended in color with the smart gowns of the feminine guests, making the scene one of gayety, color and charm.

Those invited to meet Mrs. Gray were Judge and Mrs. Charles Bartles, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Baldwin, Mrs. Fern Burford, Leon Burford, Mrs. Mae Allen of Los Angeles; Mrs. Frances C. JAYSEE GRADS TOLD NEED OF NEW MORALITY

"Men of authority who betray their trust are dangerous to the country and we need a new morality in business and commercial life," declared Dr. Theodore Gerald Soares, professor of theology at the California Institute of Technology, in addressing the graduating class and friends, of the Santa Ana junior college yesterday afternoon on the campus lawn.

The commencement program was featured by the address of Dr. Soares on "Changing Moralities." He traced the development in social customs, questioned the morality of slavery, and declared that one of the greatest problems before the world was whether every man and woman had a right to a job in the industrial system.

Another highlight of the graduation program was the announcement of honors by President D. K. Hammond. Miss Carolyn Mueller was named the valedictorian of the class. The contest for salutatorian resulted in a tie between Gene Hall and William Blanchard.

Miss Mueller and Duncan Harnois, outgoing student president, were awarded the $25 Robert L. Brown prizes for excellence in scholarship and activities. The two First National Bank prizes of $25 for the best students in commerce were presented to Gene Hall and Miss Charlotte Richards. Gertrude Jentges was given the $25 gold prize of Beta Gamma, honorary scholastic and extra-curricular society.

Frank A. Henderson, superintendent of schools, presided at the exercises, which were opened by the academic procession of faculty and graduates across the lawn to the platform. The junior college orchestra, under the direction of S. J. Mustol, played "Here They Come," by Weidt as an entrance march and then offered "Caliph of Bagdad," by Boildieu, for the overture.

"The Flower of Dreams" by Clokey was sung by the women's chorus, directed by Miss Myrtle Martin. Following the address by Dr. Soares, the class was presented for graduation by Dean McKee Fisk, George R. Wells, president of the board of education, accepted the 196 candidates for the associate of arts degree and the 29 students for the certificate in secretarial practice.

President Hammond awarded the diplomas and then announced the names of the honor students who had been elected to life membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma, state honor society. They were William Blanchard, Katherine Chapman, Gene Hall, Sarah Jean Jenkins, Gertrude Jentges, Edna Klaler, Martin Lorenzen, Eloise Eileen McCollum, Carolyn Mueller, Richard Pinkerton, Charlotte Richards, Ernest Thacker, and Marjorie Woods.

The program was concluded by the men's chorus singing "The Spirit Flower," by Riegger, and the exit march by the orchestra, "Banners of Freedom," by Burgess.

COUNTY "OLD TIMERS" TO PICNIC IN IRVINE PARK

Residents of Orange county who rate as "old timers" will gather at Irvine park Sunday, June 25, for the annual Old Timers picnic and reunion, it was announced today by County Clerk Joe Backs, president of the organization.

With 1500 invitations sent out to members of the organization, a record crowd is expected at the meeting this year. More than 1000 attended the event last year.

Formal programs are not presented at the annual gatherings, the entertainment being provided in an extemporaneous manner by the old residents of Orange county.

A picnic lunch will be held at noon, with the committee in charge serving coffee, cream, sugar, ice water and punch. Headquarters for the event will be next to the pavilion at the park.

President Backs announced today that if there are any persons who did not receive cards and they can qualify as old timers, or "junior old timers," they are invited to participate in the reunion.

WIDEN R.F.C. SCOPE FOR QUAKE RELIEF

Amendments to the earthquake relief law now permit the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, through the Unified Rehabilitation Corporation, to accept collateral consisting of a paramount lien on any property containing proportionate value to the loan applied for in all cases where the proceeds of the loan will be used to rehabilitate property destroyed through the earthquake.

This was learned today in information received from Washington today, which further stated that it will not be necessary that the lien be on the damaged property itself.

Information concerning the amendment and the possibilities for obtaining loans for the repair of property damaged in the earthquake should be obtained from E. N. Wilcox at the branch office of the Unified Rehabilitation Corporation at 232, Santora building, Santa Ana.

DOLORES DEL RIO MAY ATTEND FETE

Dolores del Rio, famous moving picture star, has accepted definitely an invitation from A. Cavalli, manager of the Santa Ana Merchants Association, to be an honored guest at the Fiesta del Oro program the afternoon of July 29, it was learned today.

Cavalli received a letter today from Miss A. Sanchez, secretary to Miss del Rio, in which the invitation was accepted and which advised him that she would bring with her some famous old Spanish shawls which were worn in California in the days of 1849, which the Fiesta will depict.

LAUNCH ATTACK ON DRY ORDINANCES

A new attack on Orange county's dry ordinance and a similar ordinance in the city of Fullerton was launched before Superior Judge James L. Allen in department 2, superior court, this morning.

The attack resulted from the filing of a petition for writ of habeas corpus by D. G. Wettlin, attorney for Mrs. Frances Aguilar, convicted under the Fullerton ordinance for possession and sale of liquor.

The hearing was not concluded at noon today, but was ordered continued this afternoon. Most of the time this morning was spent in citing court decisions in legal technicalities involved in the case.

ROLPH TO GIVE TALK AT STATE PARK OPENING

Governor Rolph will give the principal address of the dedication of the San Clemente State park, July 1, it was announced today. A program of sports will begin at 10 o'clock and continue throughout the day.

The state park area includes over 100 acres lying between the State highway and the ocean and additional ocean frontage, totaling in all over 6000 feet. A large group of workers is now engaged in carrying out extensive improvements on the park area and installing roads, trails, camping sites, open-air cooking places, shelters, comfort stations and all the other modern conveniences which will make the park a desirable and delightful place for picnics and parties for all the people of Southern California.

In addition to the governor, several other state officials have been invited to attend, and the State Park commission is expected to be present in a body. Members of the board of supervisors of Orange county have been invited to be on hand to welcome the governor and state officials.

The governor will speak at noon, with other speakers of prominence to follow. At 1 o'clock a large group of young women in Spanish costumes will assemble and prizes will be awarded for the best and most attractive Spanish ensemble. At 2 o'clock there will be a parade of mounted men and women, who will also compete for the best caballero costumes. Several bands will be on hand.

The San Clemente Chamber of commerce will provide coffee, sugar and cream for all who attend and ample parking place as well as room for camping will be available. Under the leadership of Dan Mulherron, president of the chamber, various committees are actively at work. Judge Fred S. Warner is in charge of the sports program, Dan Mulherron is directing the speakers' program, H. H. Cotton and Hallam Cooley are in charge of the selection of the best Spanish costume and Don Juan Forester will handle the cowboy features.

EBELL HEAD IS DELEGATED AS C. OF C. ENVOY

ANAHEIM, JJune 16—Mrs. Walter Ross, president of the Ebell club, was appointed yesterday noon at the chamber of commerce board of directors luncheon, to represent that body in the women's division of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. The appointment was made by Fred Robbins, president. The meeting was held in the Elks clubhouse.

The board appropriated $15 and instructed the president to have a car decorated to be entered in the parade at the National Airport meet in Los Angeles on July 1. The invitation to meet for July 1, 2 and 3 was read by George W. Reid, secretary.

A detailed report on the recent Economics Council of Southern California meeting that was held here last Saturday was given by Lotus H. Loudon, chairman.

Mr. Reid stressed the importance of the primary election for board members that is now being held prior to the election that will close on June 27. He urged all members to come to the chamber of commerce office and cast their vote. The primary election will close at noon Saturday.

ANAHEIM BOY TAKES LEAD IN CONTEST

New standings of Register carrier boys in the Catalina vacation contest were announced today by R. M. Conklin, circulation manager.

Today, at the half-way mark in the contest, which ends on June 30, a total of 408,500 points have been piled up by both city and suburban carriers.

Elton Sieveke, Anaheim, retained first place with a new total of 22,700 points and Merlin Hicks, Santa Ana, was still second with 14,500 points. Horace Codling, Santa Ana, moved into third place with 10,800 points and Paul Davis, Orange, was fourth with 10,600.

Boys win points for the contest by new subscriptions, collections on new and renewed subscriptions and by keeping their routes up.

Ten prizes will be awarded, the first prize being a two week vacation for two people at Catalina. Second prize is one week for two people. The next five prizes are one week vacation at Catalina for one person, and the eighth prize is two round trip tickets to Catalina, while the last two prizes are one round trip ticket each.

HIGH SCHOOL TO GRADUATE 270 STUDENTS

Dr. Frederick T. Blanchard, professor at U. C. L. A., will give an address on "Perspectives" as the feature of the fortysixth annual commencement exercises at the Santa Ana high school tonight when 270 graduating seniors will receive their diplomas from George Wells, president of the board of education.

Frank A. Henderson, superintendent of schools, will preside at the service to be held on the high school lawn at 7:30 p.m. The high school orcestra, under the direction of S. J. Mustol, will play the opening march and follow with the "Sunnyland" overture, written by the director. The Rev. Albert Kelly, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, will give the invocation.

Musical numbers will be offered by the girls' octet and the combined glee clubs, under the direction of Miss Myrtle Martin. Principal D. K. Hammond will present the class, Robert Mitchell, class president, will accept the diplomas on behalf of the graduates, and Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education, will present seven graduates of the evening school class.

Admission is free to the public, with special seats being reserved by ticket for parents and friends.

THREE PONTIACS IN ONE FAMILY

When Charles N. Whittam, 417 East Bishop street, bought a new Pontiac recently he liked the car so much he bought two more of the same model for his two sons. The family group is shown below with their new cars. DUCKS COURT; STATE OFFICERS CONFISCATE PLATES, LICENSE

Having failed to appear on a traffic violation charge before Police Judge J. G. Mitchell of Santa Ana, Newton L. Carroll, 340 West Brookdale street, Fullerton, has had his driving license, auto registration papers, and license plates confiscated and sent to the state motor vehicle department in Sacramento.

California highway patrol officers were sent to Fullerton Tuesday after authorities learned where Carroll lived. On the brief given to the state officers, it is charged that Carroll failed to appear Dec. 28, 1932, in the Santa Ana police court and he will be forced to do without his driving credentials until he clears himself before Judge Mitchell.

Appearing on the brief was the notation that Carroll was also wanted in San Diego for failing to appear in justice court there April 5 on another traffic charge. Carroll first came into contact with highway authorities in February, 1931, when he failed to appear for traffic violations in Oceanside. He finally posted bail through the highway patrol office here and cleared up that case.

160 STUDENTS GRADUATE FROM JUNIOR HIGH

Impresive exercises in an auditorium filled to overflowing the 1933 class of Frances Willard Junior high school last night culminated three years intensive study. Diplomas were awarded to 160 graduates in the school auditorium last night, who had successfully completed the required course of study.

To the strains of the processional, Mendelssohn's War March, played by Miss Helen Glancy, the class filed into the auditorium, the girls in their regulation uniforms and the boys garbed in dark trousers and white shirts.

The exercises were opened by the well drilled mixed chorus which sang two numbers, "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin and "Service" by Cadman. The work of the chorus was unusual for a junior high school and reflected the painstaking direction of Miss Esther Jean Davis. Helen Holmes, was the accompanist.

Students Composition

An unusual feature of the program was the solo by Naoma Sands, one of the graduating class, who sang "California." The music to this instrument was written by Miss Audrey Granas and the words by Jean Munro, also members of the class. Earlier in the evening Miss Granas had rendered two delightful violin solos, "Hymn to the Sun" (Rimsky-Korsakoff) and "Songs My Mother Taught Me," (Dvorak). Miss Granas was accompanied by her sister, Beatrice Granas.

Mrs. Maurine Scott, with laudatory remarks presented the honor society of six.

Two numbers, "Kentucky Babe" (Buck) and "When a Maid Comes Knocking," from the "Firefly" (Friml) were sung by the girls' quartet, composed of Naomi Sands, Jean McBurney, Nina June Robertson and Evelyn Richards. Miss Helen Glancy, the director was the accompanist.

Valedictory Address

"Literature As a Character Building Force," was the subject of the valedictory address given by La Vonne Frandson.

Presentation of American Legion Americanism medals were made by Jules Markel, chairman of the twenty-first district Americanism committee, and former commander of the American Legion post, 131. He was introduced by J. B. Tucker, commander of the local post. The awards, kept secret until the presentations, were made to Jean Munro and Ralph Fuller.

Principal Lyle B. Mitchell in presenting the class was extremely complimentary is his remarks regarding the scholastic attainments of the class as a whole and expressed reluctance in parting company with the 160 graduates. Presentation of the certificates was made by Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson, whose daughter was a member of the graduating class.

The flag salute by the class closed the exercises and the class for the last time turned its back on three years of pleasant memories and study and marched away to higher fields of learning while Miss Glancy played as the recessional, "March Romaine," by Gounod.

FRAUD INTENT ALLEGED IN ESTATE SUIT

Charging Dr. Allen E. Zimmerman took advantage of his close and intimate relations with his wife prior to her death to persuade her to execute and deliver a quit claim deed to property valued at around $5000 without the knowledge of relatives or creditors, suit to cancel the deed and bill of sale was filed today in superior court by E. R. Abbey, public administrator, against Dr. Zimmerman, et al.

Ida Mae Zimmerman died May 12 in Fullerton. The complaint charges that Mrs. Zimmerman, prior to her death, deeded the property to her husband.

Mrs. Zimmerman, according to the complaint, was suffering from diseases of the head and addicted to the excessive use of intoxicating liquors and frequent drunkenness and other illnesses which resulted in her death.

She was 51 years of age, the complaint said, and was of unsound mind to such extent as to be wholly incapable of transacting business and never knew to the day of her death that she had made the deed, but always thought she still owned the property.

It is charged in the complaint that Dr. Zimmerman paid no consideration for the deed, but, knowing his wife's condition, persuaded her to execute the deed with the intention of cheating and defrauding creditors and her sisters out of their share of the property.

BEACH MAN HURT IN MOTOR CRASH

Harry Shuman, 44, 220 Frankfort street, Huntington Beach, was admitted to St. Joseph's hospital this morning from injuries received when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile at Huntington Beach.

Shuman received a fractured leg in the crash. No one else was injured and little damage was done to the car.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FOR DR. W. A. FLOOD

Attended by hosts of friends, funeral services were held yesterday at the Winbigler Funeral home for Dr. William A. Flood, 50, well-known dentist who passed away suddenly Tuesday night at his home, 1802 North Main street.

Dr. Flood, a resident of Santa Ana 40 years, had been practicing here for the past 25 years. He was a prominent member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, and the final services were under the direction of the church. The remains were cremated.

The deceased had been in excellent health until he suffered the fatal heart attack in his home. He recently constructed his own office building at Tenth and Broadway and had a large clientele of Orange county residents.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillian Flood; a daughter, Mrs. Fern Pixley, of Balboa, and a son, William Flood jr., Santa Ana.

4000 Attend Graduation Exercises At High School

COLLEGE HEAD GIVES ADDRESS BEFORE GROUP

FULLERTON, June 16.—In a setting of rare beauty, with the platforms decorated in unusual and attractive manner, the thirty-eighth class of the Fullerton union high school district was graduated yesterday afternoon, with nearly 4000 persons witnessing the ceremony.

Dr. Walter Dexter, president of Whittier college, brought the commencement address, and Arthur Staley, a member of the first graduating class, now president of the board of trustees of the school, presented the diplomas. Lois Plummer, principal of the school, was master of ceremonies, and Dr. Thomas Newlin, who is concluding his service as teacher in the schools, brought the ministry of prayer for the service.

The decorations that added to the natural beauty of the setting were unusually attractive. A large F, of red gladioluses on a white background, of gladioluses, centered the background, and was over the central platform, on a balcony above, and flanking either side of the speakers' platform were large baskets of flowers, while the front of the speakers' platform, and of the stands where candidates for graduation were seated, were banked with greenery and gladioluses.

Members of the sophomore class of the school, with Miss Edith Logan as director, placed the decorations, and members of the junior class, ushered under direction of E. Von Gruenigan and Mrs. Esther Long. Miss Grace Miller and Mr. Arnold were faculty advisers for the class.

Preceding the processional of the graduates, who were in grey gowns, and who entered from side corridors, girls of the school, dressed in pastel dresses, cut long, presented a colorful dance, carrying festoons in pastel shades, and culminated the dance by marching to the place of entrance of the graduates, permitting them to start their march to the platform under the festoons, preceding the dancers, girls clad in white carried long festoons, and stood with them along the line of march.

The speaker told the class that to fulfill the destiny of life is not to try to take the facts of learning to their places, but to fit those facts into personality, and to translate them into fellowship and friendship, building dynamic personality, this giving the world things of spiritual value.

The orchestra of the school, directed by Dudley Nashold, played "Zampa" by Herold and "Babes in Toyland" by Herbert, as opening selections. The processional, played by the orchestra, was "National Emblem" by Bagley. The Girls' Glee club of the school under direction of Miss Ruth Tilton, sang "The Winds in the South" and "Let All My Life Be Music." Miss Genevieve Townsend accompanied at the piano.

Miss Kathryn Launer presented the valedictory address and following the talk by Dr. Dexter, Mr. Plummer presented the class, and Mr. Staley presented the diplomas to the 244 graduates.

In his address, Mr. Staley contrasted the school of today with the school that he knew, and said he was one-half of his class, and that Thomas McFadden was the other half.

In the course of his talk, he said that the student body of the Fullerton union high school is today larger than that of Stanford, where both graduates of the first class entered in 1896.

The program closed with a benediction by Dr. Newlin, and with the recessional, "Nibelungen," written by Wagner, and played by the orchestra.

Members of the class who were granted membership in the Scholarship federation of the state were Katheryn Launer, Agnes McAulay, Lorraine Miano, Robert Morgan, Marjorie O'Hanlon, Walton Raitt and Kenney Walker. Those who were granted the membership in the national honor society were Angelina Apaletegui, Virginia Allen, Richard Briggs, Grant Brown, Stanley Christensen, Helen Coleman, Charles Cuff, Edna Dryer, Clifford Jarrett, Howard Lang, Katheryn Launer, Agnes McAulay, Wilma McFadden, Lorraine Miano, Thomas McMaster, Robert Morgans, Marporie O'Hanlon, Walton Raitt, Marjorie Robinson, Robert Townsend, Genevieve Troy and Kenney Walker.

PAPER'S ATTACK ON PASTORS CENSURED BY DRY COMMITTEE SIX MISSTATEMENTS ARE CITED

FULLERTON, June 16.—Naming six misstatements of fact which had been published in its editorial columns, the Citizens' Dry committee passed a resolution last night censuring the News-Tribune for its unfair attack upon the ministers of Fullerton. The action was taken at a special meeting which had been called by S. W. Windle, newly elected chairman of the committee, and was held in the Methodist Episcopal church.

In an article and an editorial appearing in its issue of June 13, the News-Tribune accused the ministers of carrying on a campaign of "intimidation and petty vengeance" and further accused them of laying down a barrage of attack against the Fullerton paper and urging the members of their churches to a practical boycott of the paper.

The dry committee not only considered this attack entirely false but also misleading. The paper had singled out the ministers as carrying on the campaign of education on the beer issue, whereas the real campaign was sponsored by a large group of laymen of the churches. The resolution, drawn up by J. W. Ross, L. B. Stewart and R. L. Chambers, follows:

Committee Resolution

"Whereas the News-Tribune in its editorials and articles appearing in issues published June 9, 1933, and June 12, 1933, has incorrectly accused the ministers of the city as being responsible for the bringing into the community of the Santa Ana Register, and

"Whereas, all decisions concerning the importation of the Santa Ana Register and all other action towards carrying on a campaign of education on the dry issue were made by an education committee of which the ministers were a minority, therefore,

"Be It Resolved, that the Citizens' Dry committee wishes to state that the ministers who were so unfairly attacked were acting in conjunction with the Citizens' Dry committee and were in no event acting on their own initiative, and

Campaign Approved

"Be It Resolved, that the Citizens' Dry committee unanimously approves the actions thus far taken by its education committee in its education campaign, and

"Be It Further Resolved, that the Citizens' Dry committee submit a copy of this resolution to the Fullerton News-Tribune with a request to publish said resolution."

While the Citizens' Dry committee does not care to answer personal attacks on its members, nor to take part in any personal controversy which controversy it feels, has been injected purposely into the campaign by the News-Tribune, nevertheless, the members feel that the interests of the community require the publication of certain facts that have not yet been stated.

The dry committee stated that the News-Tribune had falsely accused the activity of the committee and the ministers upon six counts.

Accusation Incorrect

The accusation that those who circulated the dry petitions informed housewives that they "represented the city council" was branded as absolutely incorrect, as was also the charge that signers of any petition would be "marked" or intimidated in any way.

The third charge made by the News-Tribune was that a back handed boycott had been made by the Ministerial union against those merchants who "favored" the sale of beer. The committee pointed out that the resolution to which the News-Tribune had reference definitely stated a pledge to support those merchants who refrained from selling beer. The resolution discussed appeared in the News-Tribune on May 1 and follows:

"Inasmuch as merchants and business men who do not desire to corrupt and debauch their fellow citizens with drink will find themselves up against tremendous pressure brought upon them by the liquor interests, we resolve: That the Fullerton Ministers' union pledge our loyal support to merchants and business men who refuse to sell or distribute in any manner, intoxicating liquors, should they return; we further pledge ourselves to encourage our people to support those merchants and business men who are courageous enough to refuse to engage in the liquor business in any manner."

The fourth charge made by the News-Tribune against the dry campaigners was that the bringing into Fullerton of the Santa Ana Register was in "punishment" of the News-Tribune and merchants favoring beer.

Move Necessary

In an open letter to the business men of Fullerton, and submitted to the News-Tribune but suppressed by them but published in The Register on June 3, the dry committee set forth just why it was importing The Register and definitely stated that the "action has been taken not through any antagonistic attitude toward local business men" but wholly because the move was necessary in order to present information on the dry issue."

Regarding the letter, J. W. Ross stated last night: "I never saw a situation more gentlemanly handled. Every offensive word was removed in order to be perfectly fair to the News-Tribune."

The fifth charge, that the dry committee was conniving and breaking a city ordinance, was also held to be false by the committee. It was pointed out that the committee had consulted with and obtained the approval of four reliable attorneys, including the city attorney, Albert Launer, before any action was taken to import an outside paper into Fullerton.

The sixth charge was that the dry committee failed to co-operate with the News-Tribune. It was brought out by the committee that citizens interested in keeping Fullerton free from legalizing intoxicating liquor chose an executive and an educational committee to represent their interests and present the true temperance facts to the public.

Dry Articles Omitted

This group regarded the Tribune as one medium of communication and sent its first authorized statement to the Tribune May 24. It was not published. On May 25 the Tribune announced it would limit published articles to a period of 12 days prior to the election. A committee of four called upon Mr. Maxwell for a conference in which he agreed to open the columns of his paper at once to the committee and would make a similar offer to the other side. On May 27 the committee submitted its second authorized communication. In spite of his agreement to print an article each day sent by the dry committee, no communication on the dry side has appeared in the News-Tribune since May 24.

For that reason the dry committee had to bring the Santa Ana Register into Fullerton in order to reach the public.

NEW LEADER INSTALLED BY CLUB SECTION

ORANGE, June 16.—Mrs. Arthur Fullerton was installed as president of the Second Economics section of the Orange Woman's club yesterday at a meeting held at the clubhouse. A covered dish dinner was held at noon and the afternoon was spent in playing bridge. Hostesses were Mrs. L. W. Thompson, Mrs. Dolores Goodwin and Mrs. Catherine Steele.

Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake wa sawarded first prize at bridge and Mrs. E. S. Ross, second. The next meeting of the section will be held July 11 in the home of Mrs. F. A. Blake, 1130 East Collins avenue. Hostesses are to be Mrs. John Hirst, Mrs. N. T. Edwards and Mrs. E. S. Ross.

Present were Mesdames C. C. Bonebrake, F. A. Blake, George M. Bartley, H. A. Coburn, N. T. Edwards, Arthur Fullerton, Dolores Goodwin, John Hirst, V. D. Johnson, Catherine Steele, Ray McCarthy, J. T. McInnes, Charles Oldfield, E. S. Ross, J. F. Rowley, L. W. Thompson, Gwendolyn Thompson, H. B. Terry and one guest, Mrs. W. C. Lee.

Mrs. Fullerton was presented with a beautiful corsage by Mrs. McInnes, who acted as installing officer and who is the retiring president and Mrs. McInnes in turn was presented with a beautiful leather letter case, the presentation being made by Mrs. Fullerton.

SPEAKER SAYS FEAR RESULT OF DEPRESSION

FULLERTON, June 16.—The usual causes placed before people as productive of the present depression are not adequate to account for the world-wide condition of affairs, according to the Rev. Donald Gaylord, pastor of the Brea Congregational church, who spoke last night on the subject of the cause of the depression before the Fullerton Unemployed association, following a pot luck dinner their headquarters on West Santa Fe avenue.

"Fear is obviously the result of the depression, not the cause," he said. 'When did you start to be afraid to spend your money? Was it not after you saw men being laid off the job, men that in point of seniority, approached your ages more and more? It seems to me that fear is the result, not the cause of depression."

The speaker said he felt that the talk about hoarding is similar and as mistaken as that of fear as cause of the depression, and that hoarding followed the fear that came with the laying off of working people.

As to war, he said there was a contributing cause there, but that the terrible upheaval and unbalance created by war could not be cause of this most terrible unemployment question," the worst in the history of the world."

He pointed to prohibition as a cause as perfectly ridiculous, since, in 1910," when the liquor business was flourishing, brewery interests employed but 280,000 men, at most. If you are going to vote for return of beer, and repeal of the 18th amendment as a cure for unemployment, you had better find another reason for voting."

"Now I challenge any person to show me how balancing or not balancing the budget will effect the unemployment situation, either one way or another," he said, regarding the balancing of the budget as a cure, and declared that so far as he can see, the technological reason is the only logical reason for the present situation, the placing on the field of machinery to take the place of men, and not providing for those men, while the policy of over production and of inflation and deflation of money is another cause.

"Remember, that even though we considered 1929 as the peak year for business, there were four million unemployed men then, and the trouble started long before 1929, when the consumers goods had been produced to a point of saturation," he said.

As a closing program, questions were asked of the speaker, and in the course of questioning, it was brought out that repeal of the 18th amendment may greatly affect Southern California and the orange industry, and that a point in recovery from the present difficult employment situation is abolition of tax exempt securities, and a management board for the provision of more currency.

The speaker was asked to return soon and talk further on methods of recovery. In the course of the questioning he brought out the fact that the old cry was "no government in business," but now the cry is for government to come to the aid of business, and that even with men who have betrayed the government, it is run better than business.

W.R.C. Club Will Hold Session On Next Wednesday

FULLERTON, June 16.—The Get-Together club of the Fullerton W. R. C. corps will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. Gladys Taylor at 701 East Whiting avenue, it was announced yesterday at the regular meeting at Odd Fellows' hall.

Mrs. Charles A. Dalessi presided. A dinner was served previous to the business session, which was routine.

TERMS RUSSIA AS MENACE TO THIS NATION

Declaring that in Russia under the czar there was plenty of food and the peasant was an intelligent man and presenting pictures which he asserted were proof of the misery of the people and proof that cannibalism is a fact in some parts of the nation today, under bolshevism, Dr. Louis Patmont spoke here to a large crowd at the First Christian church Wednesday night.

Dr. Patmont said he was speaking, not as a tourist who saw what the Soviet wanted him to see but as a native Russian who saw behind the scenes in his own country. He painted a word picture of what he termed the stark reality of the crucifixion of the Christian race by the "most perfectly organized and relentlessly diabolical group of assassins, looters and gangsters that has ever assumed control of a government."

This same influence that has its grip on Russia, he declared is menacing America and is getting a foothold in this country through the Soviet program of obtaining the goodwill of liberal educators and ministers.

"God pity America," he said, "if it does not close its gates to this Beast from the pit Bolshevism."

Heckler Ejected

A would-be heckler in the audience who applauded at one time when Dr. Patmont said that because of one of his addresses in the northern part of the state he was almost stoned, and a few moments later arose and shouted "Maybe you can get away with that with these Americans, but not with me" was removed by a group of American Legion men attending the lecture.

"Under the Soviet, the people are starving, the home is broken, religion driven from the country and Christians are persecuted, robbed and in many instances massacred," Dr. Patmont said.

"Communism is creating a hell in Russia. It has cursed Russia, it has cursed China and is not going to miss America. The doctrine of Communism already is being peddled in many of the schools and colleges of the nation."

Russia he declared, is waiting for the collapse of other European nations and is assisting this collapse through the introduction of Communism and taking advantage of trade relations. The European nations that have recognized the Soviet are regretting the action and the same regret will be America's should such recognition be extended.

Trotsky Gets Aid

Trotsky, he declared, during t he Kerensky revolt, was a poor man living in New Jersey and working as a reporter on a Russian language newspaper. Overnight, Dr. Patmont said, he became wealthy and it was later learned that a large American firm had deposited $15,000,000 to his credit in an eastern bank.

With this money Trotsky recruited several thousand desperadoes, bribed Latvian regiments of the Kerensky army, overthrew Kerensky and established a reign of terror that has, since, tightened its grip on Russia, he said.

The Soviet, he declared, blasphemes God and prohibits religious worship. Moral barriers have been torn down with the result that there are between 8,000,000 and 8,500,000 homeless children roaming the country in criminal bands.

Dr. Patmont took issue with Sherwood Eddy and his picture of a modern, progressive government that is uplifting the people. He quoted from one of Eddy's books "The Challenge of Russia" describing the rehabilitation homes for children. Dr. Patmont admitted that camps described by Eddy are maintained by the Soviet to show tourists. Then he showed pictures of what he said were the real camps where the children are herded into rooms, boys and girls together and all are diseased, and half starved, he said.

He also showed a series of Soviet posters blaspheming God and ridiculing religion.

COOPERATION FOR CONTROL OF COMMUNICABLE DISEASE ASKED BY HEALTH OFFICER

Since January 1, this year 2131 cases of communicable diseases have been reported to the Orange county health department for isolation, according to Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer. This required 7655 home visits by members of the department, Dr. Sutherland said.

Commenting on communicable diseases in Orange county Dr. Sutherland said:

"Unfortunately the school year is closing with many cases of communicable disease still present in the community. This means that during the summer months parents must assume some of the responsibility for reporting these diseases that is ordinarily assumed by the school.

"We urge parents to consult a physician at the earliest signs of possible contagion in their children, but if they do not call a physician, the head of the house must, according to law report the presence of the suspected disease, to the county health department either by mail or by phone. In Santa Ana the health department phone number is 3000, while in the various cities over the county, representatives of the health department may be reached through the local police station.

Need Control

"Unless these cases of contagion are well controlled during the summer months they will continue to occur at regular intervals until the re-opening of school, and then start new epidemics which will deplete the school attendance and lower classroom efficiency.

"Among the diseases to watch for at present are scarlet fever, measles, German measles, chickenpox, mumps and whooping cough, all of which must be strictly isolated on the home premises until given a release by the health department.

"In all the diseases listed above the causative agent is found in the secretions of mucous membranes of the nose and throat, and it is transmitted from person to person by coughing or sneezing, as well as by direct contact through touch.

Symptoms Listed

"Scarlet fever in California may be a mild disease and often a mild or 'missed' case presents a very troublesome problem. In such a case the child may be indisposed for only a few days and then be out again among other children while still in the infectious state. A sore throat, headache, possibly vomiting, temperature, and most important of all a fine red rash, should always be seen by a medical authority for the child's own protection as well as for that of others.

"Whooping cough is an infection dangerous to small children particularly. Its control depends largely upon the cooperation of the public. Any severe cough with vomiting is suspicious of whooping cough and should be isolated pending definite diagnosis even though the characteristic whoop is not present.

"Measles is a highly communicable infection spread by coughing and sneezing. It is very contagious even during the four to five days before the red mottled rash appears. A child with a hard 'brassy' cough, red watery eyes, etc., should be isolated from others for four or five days until it is quite certain that a rash will not develop. This holds particularly true where there is a history of exposure to measles.

"A chickenpox rash appears in the form of little water blisters appearing particularly in the scalp and over the chest and abdomen and lower part of the back. These water blisters become pustules and develop scabs which fall off in about 10 or 12 days. Chickenpox cases must also be isolated according to law.

"Again we ask that those having knowledge of, or suspecting the presence of communicable disease in their own home or in the neighborhood, telephone or mail this information to the Orange county health department unless there is a licensed physician on the case."

New By-Laws For Mesa Association

COSTA MESA, June 16.—A new constitution and by-laws were drafted by the Unemployed association Tuesday night in the association headquarters in the 100 block on Broadway. They will be adopted at the next regular meeting, June 28.

Several projects are under consideration for the raising of cash to meet small bills that come up in the association's activities. Chief among the items that require some cash at present, it was stated, is rental on a lot, to be decided on soon, on which the association's present building can be placed. The building is a gift to the association.

Announcement was made that all solicitors' cards have been called in and that new ones will be issued as the need demands. The association expects to begin canning apricots in about 10 days.

Canned pears, tomatoes and catsup are still in the warehouse of last year's production. Ten gallons of milk are delivered at the warehouse each day.

Esther Society Elects Officers

GARDEN GROVE, June 16. — Election of officers was the principal feature of the meeting of the Queen Esther society in the Methodist Episcopal church Monday evening. Those elected were: Frances Merchant, president; Ethel Chaffee, vice president; Elma May Smiley, secretary; Myrtle Gardner, treasurer; Louise Smiley, mite box secretary.

Devotions were led by Frances Merchant, and members read articles on various Queen Esther camps.

Preceding the meeting a pot luck supper was served to the following: Ethel Chaffee, Marjorie Chaffee, Elma May Smiley, Louise Smiley, Frances Merchant, Marjorie Heusted, Myrtle Gardner, Elva Ralston, Fern and Joy Schnitger and the advisor, Miss Velda Barnes.

Holly Refinery At Huntington Beach In Operation Soon

20 MEN WILL GET JOBS: GAS PLANT TO OPEN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 16.—The Holly Refining company is getting its refining plant in the Garfield street area of the field ready for operation to take care of the new production developed and now being produced in the town lot field. The Holly plant, on the ground of the old Holly Sugar company, has been idle for several years. Its renewed operation will provide work for about 20 men.

The Holly company is said to have made contracts for the production from the Severens and De Witte wells at Twenty-first and Walnut and is seeking other oil and gas contracts. The Holly refinery will produce gasoline, road oil and asphalt.

Negotiations are under way in the oil field here for opening one or two additional gasoline reduction plants for treating wet gas from the wells. At present the O. C. Field company handles most of the wet gas at its two reduction plants here. The old Richfield plant and the old Pan-California reduction plant and refinery are both idle and one or both may shortly be again operating. Also plans are under way by a group of Long Beach independent oil producers for moving a gasoline reduction plant here from Signal Hill.

The success of every well that has so far been sent down to the new oil zone, assures plenty of oil and gas for the reduction plants, oil men say. The zone is proved to extend from Eighteenth to Twenty-third street, at least for the first block back from the ocean. In this area 50 to 100 wells can be put down. Wells are now going down in the third block.

REPORTS GIVEN AS AUXILIARY MEETS

NEWPORT BEACH, June 16.—Mrs. Nella Norton and Mrs. Etta Marie Wilkin received special honors at the meeting of the local American legion auxiliary at the Legion hut Monday night for preparing luncheons and dinners for the many functions in which the unit has taken part. Each was presented with a gift.

A financial statement for the month of May revealed a total of $65.75 raised by the auxiliary. A recent bridge luncheon netted the unit $23.76. The sum of $55.75 was spent in local welfare work.

Arrangements have been completed to serve the Orange county engineers a luncheon at the Legion hut Friday night. Mrs. Violet Webster was made chairman.

Arrangements were set in motion for the holding of a weiner bake at the home of Mrs. Webster for the junior auxiliary. The date will be announced later. Mrs. Webster is chairman of the junior activities.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Edna Miller and Mrs. Zelma Hostetler.

It has been estimated that less than 20 per cent of the inmates of our penal institutions have had a high school education.

Committees Make Plans for Opening Of New Beach Park

SAN CLEMENTE, June 16.—The committee working on plans for the San Clemente state park opening July 1, met Wednesday evening in the city hall.

Al Anderson, chairman of the food committee reported large donations. More definite announcement regarding serving will be made later.

Virgil Westbrook will have 40 Boy Scouts available for directing traffic and the city council will be asked to provide special police service for the occasion. Legionnaires are expected to be chosen for this work.

The publicity committee has sent out announcements to newspapers of the Southland. A sports program will include a baseball game and foot races of all kinds with prizes. Ted Hanson, who is arranging a rodeo for the same day, reports that the El Rodeo club members will take part. Thirty-five riders will parade through the park and city. The rodeo will take place after the park program. The program of dedication will be arranged for the hour following lunch.

SAYS ORANGES AND NOT BEER RETURN MONEY

COSTA MESA, June 16.—Dr. George Warmer, pastor of the First Methodist church of Santa Ana, addressed the people of Costa Mesa in a meeting in the grammar school auditorium last night on the liquor issue.

"We all are willing to concede that our new president has made some wonderful strides toward putting the country back to a normal condition, but most of us are convinced that we cannot drink ourselves back to prosperity," Dr. Warmer stated. "Many people are stampeding to him, and in some instances not weighing the matters under consideration, the wet and dry issue being one of them."

Refuting one of the arguments that the wets put up for repeal, that there are more bootleggers and unlicensed liquor dealers now than there were before prohibition, he quoted figures proving that there were more unlicensed liquor dealers then than now.

Bringing the matter home to the people of Orange county, he stated that "we in Orange county cannot substitute beer for oranges and still prosper."

Too much indifference on the part of the people of the land is being manifested, and in many instances the liquor status of certain communities is not the desire of the majority therein, he said.

Dr. Warmer closed his talk by stating that, in his opinion, "big money" is backing the wets.

Dr. Warmer came to Costa Mesa at the invitation of the local prohibition committee. The members have pledged themselves to see to it that the people of the district have an opportunity to be well informed on the liquor question before the June 27 election.

DELAY ACTION ON RACE TRACK AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, June 16.—Mayor Elmer J. Hughes stated at the city council meeting last night that he had received a message from Col. John S. Berger, promoter of the proposed horse racing track here, that nothing further would be done with plans for the project until after the election on June 27, when the state votes on race track betting.

Colonel Bergar also stated that their lease had not yet been consummated, and he did not want to proceed until a suitable tract of ground was procured, Mayor Hughes said.

Responding to requests from the business men of the city, the council adopted ordinance No. 179, amending the business license ordinance in respect to the bathhouse license and the period for the sale of fireworks. Under the amendment, the license fee for operating a bathhouse is $18 instead of $50 per year. The change was made at the request of L. J. White, owner of the bathhouse at Anaheim Landing. The sale of fireworks will be permitted for a period of 10 days prior to the Fourth of July. The license fee remains the same, $200 a day for non-residents for the first stand and $100 a day for each branch stand. Local merchants are permitted to sell fireworks under their regular business license with a fee of $5 per day for branch stands. The local post of the American Legion was granted a permit to operate three stands for the sale of fireworks.

An amendment to the liquor ordinance to conform to the state law was adopted. The ordinance now provides that applicants for a license must first file an application with the city council stating the length of residence in Seal Beach, location of the proposed business, and the class of the business. The license fees as amended are: Manufacture, $100 per year; "on sale" license, $50 per year, payable semi-annually; "off sale" license, $10 a year; wholesale distributor, $40 per year.

White and Kupferle, managers of the Anaheim Landing Bowling alley and store, were granted a permit for an "off sale" liquor license.

Following their election of Fred Thomas as fire chief to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of S. Douglass, the volunteer fire department requested that the city council make the appointment confirming their choice. The council made the appointment for the remainder of the term, which expires June 30.

Hold Springdale School Program

SPRINGDALE, June 16.—The auditorium of the Springdale school was filled to its seating capacity for the commencement exercises held for the three graduates of the eighth grade, Geraldine Houser Fred Peters and Dwight Wentzel. A program was presented by different departments of the school and members of the commencement class. John Kettler, clerk of the school board, presented the diplomas.

Thus far no contracts have been signed by teachers for the coming year, it being thought advisable to wait until the budget is set.

55 STUDENTS BREA-OLINDA HIGH SCHOOL GET DIPLOMAS; ORIGINAL PAGEANT IS GIVEN

BREA, June 16.—Twenty-five girls and 30 boys received diplomas at the seventh annual commencement exercises held in the auditorium of the Brea-Olinda Union High school last night. Diplomas were conferred by the president of the board, A. H. Brown. Other members of the board present were E. W. Curtis, Mrs. Lina Russell, W. W. Hay and Guy Ledbetter.

The program opened with selections played by the high school orchestra, Miss Louise Chapman conducting. "Makers of America," an original pageant by Frances Cox, a member of the class, presented most of the class members. Miss Cox was assisted by A. E. Steulke, dramatic instructor, in directing the pageant.

Three numbers, "Morning," by Speaks; "O Peaceful Night," by German, and "As Off to the Southward We Go," were given by the Boys' Glee club, with Miss Chapman directing. Organ selections were played by Meredith Phoenix and the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar, was played at the organ by Miss Mary Bruner.

The class was presented by the principal, C. O. Harvey, for the conferring of diplomas. Accompanists for the pageant were Inez Jones and Jimmie Dean McCabe.

Four members of the class are eligible for life membership in the California Scholarship federation. They are Paul Woodard, Phyllis Smith, Inez Jones and Charles Ledbetter.

SCHOOL STUDENTS HOLD H. B. PICNIC

Neva Fay Gerdes Luncheon Hostess

GARDEN GROVE, June 16. — Miss Neva Fay Gerdes entertained with a bridge luncheon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Anderson, on Lampson road, recently. Miss Gerdes was president of the Associated Women Students of Fullerton junior college for the past year and had as her guests the new and retiring officers and dean of women.

Spring flowers centered the tables and a pink and green color scheme was carried out in the other appointments. After an afternoon of bridge first prize was awarded to Miss Laura Wooley and second prize went to Miss Alma Clark.

Those present were Miss Phyllis Corcoran, president for the coming year; Miss Eva Andreoli, Miss Alma Clark, Miss Vera Hoke, Miss Ferne Mathis, Miss Laura Wooley, Mrs. Esther Litchfield and the hostess, Miss Gerdes.

LEGION GROUP TO NAME DELEGATES

TUSTIN, June 16.—The American Legion auxiliary will meet at 8 o'clock Friday night at the Tustin building for a regular business session, when delegates to the annual state convention of the auxiliary to be held in August at Pasadena will be nominated.

The 21st district meeting of the auxiliary will be an all day affair June 19 at Corona. All unit officers and chairmen are urged to attend.

The regular quilting day and pot luck dinner of the sewing circle of the Tustin auxiliary is scheduled for June 22 in the Tustin building.

Twenty Tustin Girl Scouts were special guests at the regular monthly all day meeting of the Orange county auxiliary held Tuesday at Costa Mesa. Mrs. Enid Wilson, president, conducted the business session. Other delegates attending from Tustin were Mesdames Ona Hunter, Laura Marks, Gertrude Cleary, Pauline Cleary and Beulah Hamilton.

The drill team of the Tustin auxiliary motored to Corona Tuesday night to put on the initiatory work for that city's auxiliary. The team was taken there by Glen Young, Phil Wangler and C. McKee. Members of the drill team assisting in the work were Mesdames Dorothy Tubbs, Pearl Furtsch, Pauline Cleary, Grace Leinberger, Enid Wilson, Fern Anderson, Mary Lambert, Helen Matthews, Gennivieve McConnell, Mamie Flud, Betty McTige, Blanche Young and Naomi McKee.

HOLD LAWN PARTY

WINTERSBURG, June 16. — A lawn party was enjoyed by members of the Junior Queen Esther group when they were entertained this week by their leader, Mrs. W. F. Slater. The study book on "Indians" was taken up for the lesson study.

Plans for the mother and daughter banquet tonight were completed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Slater, those present being Joanna Lewis, Florence Ray Moore, Carol McCormick, Dorothy DeLaverne, Virginia DeLaverne, Lois Hudson, Luma Kuykendahl and Juanita Troop.

CLUB IS TOLD ATTRACTION OF BAY DISTRICT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 16.—How the "sunshine, fruit and flowers" of Southern California attracts people from everywhere was revealed in an interesting discussion at the regular weekly luncheon of the Newport Harbor Service club Wednesday at the American Legion clubhouse.

Of nearly a score who related the circumstances which drew them to the Newport harbor areas, it was found that not one of those at the meeting was a native of California though all now proudly call themselves such. Among those who related some of their past history were natives of England, Wales, Canada and several states of the union.

In addition to the climate for which Southern California is famous, members of the club stated that fishing and boating made them choose Newport bay as their home. The future which the bay promises also was the deciding point for several, one stating that he had had the bay drawn to his attention as a result of discussions during one of the county harbor bond campaigns.

The club will decide at next Wednesday's meeting on its meetings for the summer, and will complete plans for its ball at the Balboa pavilion on Thursday evening, June 22, the revenue of which will go toward placing a float in the Tournament of Lights.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

MIDWAY CITY, June 16.—With the birthday anniversary of M. E. McKay as the incentive, a group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. McKay one evening this week met for a card party.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Murray Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Meairs, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Melson, Dr. and Mrs. Russell I. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Heath, Mrs. Anna Van Steenbergh, Alvin and Clayton Van Steenbergh, Mrs. McKay's mother, Mrs. Wilson, of Alhambra, and Mr. and Mrs. McKay.

Week-end MURDER

by GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

NEA FICTION

©1932 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The story opens with a prologue in which a murder is committed by a homicidal maniac. Later he boards a train for Long Island, thinking of the pleasant week-end he is to have there. The name of the murderer is not disclosed.

The scene shifts to the Long Island home of LINDA and TOM AVERILL, married three years and much in love. The Averills have five guests for the week-end; COUSIN AMOS PEABODY, elderly, distant relative of Linda's; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer with whom Averill hopes to do business; MR. STATLANDER, middlewestern manager of the firm Averill works for; MARVIN PRATT, former suitor of Linda's; and LIAN SHAUGHNESSEY, Irish song writer on a lecture tour.

Cousin Amos immediately makes trouble. He quarrels with Shaughnessey because the Irishman holds liberal political views; plays golf with Statlander and infuriates him by criticising his game; discusses prohibition with DeVos at the Country club and declares DeVos is "no gentleman." It is finally agreed that Cousin Amos is to leave early the next morning.

The others go to the Country club dance. The dance is uneventful but when the others are ready to leave Statlander cannot be found. When he finally appears it is apparent that he has been drinking. It is nearly morning when the Averills and their guests reach home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

Tom Averill frowned. 'Oh, gosh, there we go again talking about the—what did you call them?—'potential murderers'?"

"I wish I never had to see any one of them again," Linda said dejectedly.

"Oh, come, Binks! It isn't as had as that. A few hours of sleep—"

"A few hours? How you do exaggerate! It's almost daylight and we've got to get Cousin Amos off early. Early for him—that's even worse!"

"How soon? It's after 5 now."

"In about an hour. He gets up about half-past 6 or 7 anyhow and he wants to take a 7-something train. That means 6 today."

Tom whistled silently. Then he began undressing. "Binks," he said, "go to bed. I'll see the old fellow off and tell him you're all in."

"Thanks, but that wouldn't do. It's my job and I'll send him away with a smile. I wouldn't sleep anyhow, Tom. I'd have him on my mind."

"Say—here's an idea! Get out of those things and into your bathing suit. This room's an oven and a cool dip'll do you more good than lying down. If you'll fling on a few clothes and see that he gets breakfast I'll run him to the station and you can go to bed then. I doubt if anyone else shows his face before noon."

She was already scrambling into the pert little red jersey suit that made her look so boyish and slim.

"I'm with you, Tommy! It's a grand idea. Think any of the others—?"

"Leave 'em out. Two's company this time and they're all asleep by now, anyhow. Come on!"

"Wait—I can't find my cap! You go on—it's here somewhere. I'll be right behind you!.."

The cap was found and Linda stopped to pick up the soft, crumpled, lacey dress which still lay where she had stepped out of it on the floor. As she smoothed it out and straightened Tom's equally neglected evening clothes she felt the still, oppressive heat of the silent house brooding over her. There was something thrilling about seeing the sun come up (she thought with a grin that she'd never admit that to the too-instructive Cousin Amos) but this morning the sensation of fresh wonder and delight was lacking. The room had actually grown hotter since Tom left. She sighed. Even getting down to the water seemed almost too much of an effort—then she stopped.

From somewhere down the hall came a light creaking tread—the hushed sound of one who walks quietly for fear of disturbing others. It was followed by a slight click and then to her ears came distinctly the wrak-wrak-wrak of Cousin Amos' defiantly opened casement giving on the little porch. She relaxed. Evidently her cousin was already about, wakened by the light and the still, heavy heat. Also evidently he did not want to disturb any of them and Linda decided to pretend she had not heard. After all, it wasn't quite 6 yet—half an hour before he should show signs of life. She would have her plunge and cool off before facing the next step. Yes, everything was quiet now. No one would hear her patter along in her little red rubber shoes.

But in the hall, she relented. Cousin Amos hadn't had much pleasure from his stay and he had so enjoyed the water yesterday! Since no one else was coming, why not at least ask him? At his room door she stopped in surprise—it was about a foot ajar. She remembered that he had not left it open during the night. Then she thought of the step she had heard in the hall. Curious he should go outside his room so early! He had his own lavatory and could have done without a tub for once in his life. If he had gone across the hall she hoped fervently he hadn't either met or disturbed Marvin or DeVos, both tired, sleepy and hot and therefore edgy after the Country Club affair. They were safely in bed by now and, she hoped, deaf to Cousin Amos' cautious, if inexplicable, rambling in the hall.

But, she wondered, had he gone back to bed or was he actually up and dressed so early? Hesitating whether to knock or not, she unintentionally pushed the door a little more widely open and could not help seeing the bed—empty, rumpled, the covers thrown back. Feeling very apologetic, she opened her lips to call him softly. Then, to her astonishment, she heard voices in-room. Linda stood very still, puzzled. No, they were not exactly in the room. The sudden wrak-wrak-wrak of that beastly door placed them—just over the sill out on the little porch.

Who could it be? Tom, probably, smitten with the same idea and having stopped to invite Cousin Amos to join them, called in by the indignant old man to account for the noise and swing of the door. Cousin Amos, of course, would forget entirely his insistence on opening it, in spite of her express request that he should not. Well—let Tom bear the brunt of displeasure! Perhaps he could brace it somehow to stop it for the moment. A sudden appalling squeak filled her with renewed alarm lest the sound disturb Marvin Pratt or DeVos. Both of them, she knew, had had all they wanted of Cousin Amos! In fact she had promised that the Belgian, at least, should not even see again the man who had so affronted him. She pulled the room door gently to until it all but latched and made her escape unheard, running downstairs rather amused than otherwise at Tom's plight.

But the door on the terrace was open and as she came out into the early sun, she saw a white-backed jersey rising and falling in rhythmic strokes as a familiar figure headed out from shore. Tom, no doubt of it—tired of waiting for her and apparently striking out for distant Connecticut. She prepared to emit the piercing yodel with which she was wont to signal him and checked herself only just in time as she remembered the hour. But if not Tom, who was upstairs with Cousin Amos? Had he been taken ill in the night and did he need help? Should she go back?

A slight scuffle of feet over her head on the little balcony startled her. Could the old man have had a fainting spell—a stroke perhaps? There was something strange about that subdued, shuffling sound! If only Tom, swimming away from her so unconcernedly, would turn so that she could wave him back!

Over her head there was a quick jumble of steps, an exclamation, and suddenly a cracking, rending, tearing sound. From above came hurtling a figure—headfirst—turning in the air, not two feet from where she stood, rooted and horrified, under the projecting balcony—to crumble in sickening distortion at her very feet. A white head moved feebly, a face turned toward her. Cousin Amos! A step forward, and she was kneeling beside him, tremblingly smoothing that drawn, white face, breathlessly gasping his name. The eyelids quivered and the blue, childlike eyes looked up at her at first blindly, then with dazed recognition.

"Yes, darling—you fell over—"

"No. He....th-threw—"

"He....who?"

There was no answer, nor could Cousin Amos ever tell her more.

* * *

Horror-stricken as she was over the old man's death, Linda grasped the significance of those few broken words. He was trying to tell her something. He had told her—a little. "Over—" "No—he—threw—" She was sure she had caught that last faint gasp. Someone had been there—he had not fallen—!

Instantly she was on her feet. Grief and fury banished any thought of fear. She mustn't stay here—she couldn't help Cousin Amos now—or ever—except by finding who was up there. She was flashing through the central hall, a quick streak of crimson jersey and tanned flesh. Up the stairs—no attempt now to hide her flying steps. His door was exactly as she had left it, barely ajar. No one had come out! She pushed it open and went in.

A silent, empty room. Straight through Linda went, her mind on one thing only, toward the open casement. She glimpsed the green lawn and beyond the blue water of the Sound. She even noticed, subconsciously, that Tom had turned back and was almost to the float. But nearest of all she saw a broken, torn railing, the narrow, graceful spindles careening drunkenly in every direction. She did not know whom she expected to see but there was no one on the balcony. The shock of it brought her to a rigid stop. She came to herself—she must go back, call Tom—

She started to turn and in that second caught a dark blur moving behind her. Linda had never consciously screamed. Now she could not—yet her throat constricted and her mouth opened in silent, awful pantomine which would have been a scream had breath been there to release it.

A cloth thrown around her neck from behind prevented the sound and, twisted tightly, prevented also her turning head or body to see her assailant. She jerked forward, clutching at the air. As she flung back her head, gasping for breath, she had a vague impression of seeing Tom, miles away, climbing on to the raft. Then water, air and land blurred and darkened and seemed to rush blackly at her with a horrible, dizzy roar. Suddenly, as the roaring grew unbearable, the tension was broken. Air came back to the gasping lungs—yet not quite in time. She swayed, unconscious, on her feet and pitched heavily forward into abyssmal blackness.

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

DOLLARS

There was more than the law of nature behind the downfall of the dollar.

Our government officials look like the cat that swallowed the canary whenever you mention the subject. So do officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and—believe it or not—J. P. Morgan.

None of those are stupid enough to leave any tracks uncovered. They deny with almost too much vehemence that they were manipulating foreign exchange to force the London Economic Conference into taking action. They swear things just happened that way. And imagine their surprise when the miracle transpired four days before the Conference opened.

It was like a bolt from the blue—if you know what they mean.

With things in that state it would probably be better to tell this inside story in the potential mood. That means only what the government, the Federal Reserve and our bankers might have done to run the British pound up from $3.85 to $4.18 within four days.

The inside situation then was bad for us. We wanted the pound pegged around $4 as a temporary truce for the duration of the Conference. As long as the pound was around $3.85 the British laughed with us. They wanted it as low as possible to preserve their international trade benefits.

Then came the bolt. The pound started going up and dollars down. The day the Conference opened it was $4.18.

• • •

If this government wanted to run the pound and franc up, it would go to the New York Federal Reserve Bank. It would suggest that the British could be made to see the light about an exchange truce if the pound were higher.

The Federal Reserve Bank would go to the large international exchange bankers like J. P. Morgan. It would drop a hint that the administration would feel much less harshly about Mr. Morgan if he would cooperate to get the British pound up.

If Morgan happened then to be under investigation by the administration, he would want to do it. It would be a simple matter for him. He would merely fail to transfer into dollars the international credits which flow through his hands. He would stack up credits against the pound and franc.

The Federal Reserve could help that process along by having its friends buy francs and pounds in London.

• • •

The scheme would cost a small piece of change. The bankers would get theirs back when the Federal Reserve Board subscribes to the international exchange fund. The resumption of world trade would make the experiment eventually profitable for them.

Such a program would naturally be followed by declaration of a free market for gold.

If Mr. Roosevelt wanted to prevent the process from leading to speculation he could issue a public warning against it. He may.

• • •

It would take a man like Dr. Sprague to figure it out. He is the international exchange expert we hired to see that we do not get the worst of this managed currency business. He is the one who schemed the Britist stabilization. He would be the logical one to take the frankenstein apart.

Foreigners are not sure exactly what happened. They have been charging us with skullduggery. They are judging us by themselves.

They sold the dollar short until we were compelled to go off the gold standard in self defense. They did it, not to benefit the world, but only to help their own foreign trade.

We have found out how to play the game the way they do it.

• • •

The most important angle is the suggestion that the Morgans are beginning to play ball with the administration.

Such teamplay will be of benefit all around. It should be followed by closer cooperation between the Morgan commercial banks and the Treasury on government financing.

• • •

DELAY

Those exasperating little delays you noticed in the adjournment of Congress were not all accidents.

Behind them were the stealthy movements of certain Senate Progressives. They did not care to come out with a filibuster against Mr. Roosevelt. But they did want to know what State Secretary Hull was going to say in London. Also what was going to be done on war debts.

Most anxious about these things were Senators Borah, LaFollette and Johnson. They had quiet help from others.

During the last Saturday night session La Follette made two points of order which the leaders overlooked. If they had tried to adjourn that night LaFollette was prepared to stop them.

It was Borah who put Huey Long up to opposing Mr. Roosevelt's government reorganization plan. Long was snoozing at the time. Something he had eaten no doubt made him drowsy. He wandered over to the Republican side and took a seat next to Senator Austin. His snooze lasted more than an hour when Borah came over and buzzed in his ear that the Democratic leaders were trying to get away with a little legislative murder.

Long took the floor and spoke until the leaders gave up their idea of adjourning.

• • •

BUSINESS

The coming official figures of the Federal Reserve Board will bear glad business tidings.

Industrial production will be shown to be around 72. That is the indication of preliminary confidential estimates. The public figure will be out about June 20. The figure 72 means it rose to 72 per cent of normal. The seasonally-adjusted averages of the years 1923, 24 and 25 are considered normal.

That is the highest it has been since January, 1932. It is up 12 points since Mr. Roosevelt came in.

• • •

NOTES

The exchange trick was made easier by the fact that Britain was not buying dollars to pay her war debt as she should have been. . . . As a matter of fact no one was buying dollars at the time. . . . The exact way it works is seemingly technical to non-bankers. . . . It is really quite simple if you know how it is done. . . . The only secondary official in Washington who is supposed to have known anything about it is Dr. Sprague.

CONFERENCE

The London Conference turned black inside before the delegates were in their seats—much blacker than published reports indicate.

Two New Yorkers—George Harrison of the Federal Reserve Bank and James Warburg—carried our only real hopes for constructive action. Their job was to get together with Governor Norman of the Bank of England and Governor Moret of the Bank of France for unofficial cooperation on currency stabilization and international price increases via credit expansion.

This was the key to our whole program. If it worked, money and trade agreements through Conference channels would not have been hard to manage. If not, our official delegation might as well be so many clothing store dummies.

It didn't work. Other channels will be used.

• • •

England is now publicly committed to a policy of making us the goat for the Conference failure. Her secondary officials are plenty sore about what they call our attempted domination and are setting the stage to fight it out with us on their own terms.

They say if we want isolation we can have it. Only they do not intend to stop at isolation themselves. Their plan is to rally the world against us on an economic front.

Whether they get away with it depends largely on France. The French have no love for us either. But they will not sign up under the English banner unless the English will commit themselves—even if only privately—to some form of security pact. This remains the major French objective.

Barring miracles, it will either be a case of the United States against a British-led world or a three-cornered scrap between this country, England and France with the other nations siding where they see the most advantage. The universal cooperation idea is definitely dead.

• • •

You will probably see Prof. Raymond Moley make his projected trip to London much sooner than expected—possibly within a week or ten days. His job will be to put our participation in the Conference on a kill-or-cure basis. It is almost certain to be the former.

TREATY

Our relations with Japan are scheduled to take an unexpected turn for the better at a psychological moment. A treaty pledging both nations to arbitrate any differences that may arise is simmering on the diplomatic fire. The groundwork was laid during Viscount Ishii's visit. New York banks with Japanese contacts were in on the move.

• • •

FINANCING

The Treasury scored a moral victory over the banks by floating its June 15th issue of five-year notes at 2 7-8 per cent. The banks had told Mr. Woodin it couldn't be done so cheaply. He was inclined to agree with them but was overruled and the issue went over with a bang. The banks themselves subscribed to their quotas without a peep.

The neatest part of it was that it was put over without any help from the Federal Reserve Banks. That means that the government need have no worries about floating any volume of securities for public works or other purposes.

Calling the banks' bluff at this time was a bold and significant stroke. It has cured them of the idea that they were getting back to a position where they could tell the government how to run its finances.

GOLD

In a single fortnight gold to the value of nearly a hundred million dollars has been sent from Holland, France, and the U. S. A. to rest in Britain's deposit vaults.

A movement is afoot whereby the British may make it possible for foreign governemnts to have a lien upon this hoarded wealth of their subjects. Banking officials in England are more worried than pleased by the exaggerated proportions of these international deposits. Withdrawal suddenly for redeposit elsewhere might present awkward problems.

The Economic Conference may teach the sharp ones of the world a memorable lesson.

CITY

The probable fusion nominee for Mayor of New York will be a big surprise. His name hasn't even been whispered up to now. He is a banker—of all things—but is not tarred with the Wall Street brush.

Sponsors of the National Economy League are interested in his candidacy. They will help provide the sinews of war which fusion so badly needs.

DAILY NEWSPAPER

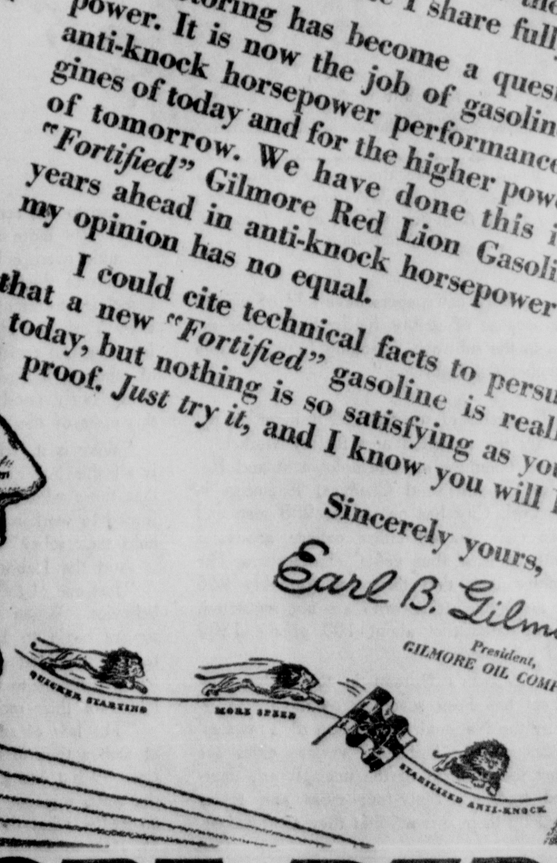

A New "Fortified" Gasoline is Born Today

The new "Fortified" Gilmore Red Lion Gasoline is introduced to motorists with all the confidence of men who know their work is well done. This confidence I share fully.

Motoring has become a question of horsepower. It is now the job of gasoline to produce anti-knock horsepower performance for the engines of today and for the higher powered motors of tomorrow. We have done this in the new "Fortified" Gilmore Red Lion Gasoline. It is 2 years ahead in anti-knock horsepower . . . and in my opinion has no equal.

I could cite technical facts to persuade you that a new "Fortified" gasoline is really born today, but nothing is so satisfying as your own proof. Just try it, and I know you will like it.

A NEW CHAMPION FOR THE Forgotten Woman

An interview with the first lady of the Cabinet on the tragic exploitation of feminine workers ---what the conditions really are and her aims to correct them

By Flora G. Orr

"JUST whom do you mean by 'the forgotten woman'?" It was the clear, quiet voice of the Secretary of Labor, Miss Frances Perkins, asking the question.

"I mean the woman who is out of work, Madam Secretary, the woman who is suffering somewhere in silence, knowing the full bitter meaning of both economic and mental depression; the woman, who cannot, like the man who has nothing to do and nowhere to go, stand in bread lines or on the street corners asking for your spare change, if any.

"I mean, too, the woman who has been, by the conditions of the last few years, forced back into the most horrible sweatshop labor, working frightfully long hours with so little pay that it is virtual slavery."

"That woman," replies Miss Perkins, "is not forgotten—not by me. I know too much about what she has been enduring, ever to forget."

The secretary is emphatic and decisive, sincere and deeply sympathetic. She says:

"We hope to be able to do things for that woman, as well as for her brother. We will not cease trying until a happier day has arrived. In the meantime, of course, we must ask everybody to help."

FILED with the Women's Bureau in the Labor Department is information galore, if you would learn something of the difficulties under which millions of women are carrying on today.

It is a conservative estimate that 2,000,000 out of the 11,000,000 normally employed now have no source of income. It is a safe guess that at least one-tenth of these have children, fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers or invalid husbands dependent upon them.

"Where do the homeless, jobless women go, Miss Perkins?"

"Let us glance at some of the recent reports. Here is one from Boston. Here it is estimated there are more than 20,000 women out of work. Only about one-fourth or one-fifth of these are on the relief agency books.

"How are the rest getting along? Relatives and friends are helping in many instances, of course. Some, without children or other ties, are working somewhere just for board and room.

"We hear that as many as six girls are occupying one room together. The kindly landlady has been the unsung friend in need for hundreds of girls who are up against it.

"Probably some of the younger ones have gone back to the families from which they came. This may be unpleasant, but both the family and the girl are forced to make the best of the situation.

"HERE is an official statement from Atlanta, Georgia. Here one-half of the unemployed are women—all classes of workers—stenographers, clerks, bookkeepers, cashiers, typists, waitresses, telephone operators, saleswomen, factory workers, domestic helpers, nurses.

"A few are turning to vice, but not so many as one might expect. Read this sentence: 'The morale of the women stands up better under economic stresses than does that of the men.'

"St. Louis has a bureau for homeless women and an independent shelter where several hundred women are fed free of charge daily. Many walk miles to get one square meal per day at this lunch room. They have no car fare.

"Washington, D. C., said it had 10,000 unemployed women in December. There are more now, of course. Many of these are college trained. The beds in the Salvation Army's emergency home and the few in the policewomen's bureau were filled by destitute women every night this past winter. The Travelers' Aid and religious and fraternal organizations have sheltered hundreds.

"So it goes. Hard to think about, isn't it? In New York newspapers have told of women who, because of scanty funds, have spent the nights in the subways, changing from one train to another until morning."

Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, who fights for the forgotten woman as well as for the forgotten man.

The Committee on Unemployment and Relief for Chemists and Chemical Engineers in New York City has on its list 900 men and women chemists, all either college graduates or with at least four years' experience. The committee feels that there are probably 900 more in similar straits who are not registered. It is estimated that about 100 of the 1800 would be women.

The Women's Bureau in the Labor Department has been scanning questionnaires issued by the National Association of Travelers' Aid Societies to find how various cities are meeting the problem of the unemployed, unattached woman. Sixty-four cities and towns showed by their answers that they are awakening to the seriousness of the situation.

But more than half of the 64 communities were either indifferent or openly hostile to the idea of assuming the care of homeless, transient women. Only two cities, New York and Pittsburgh, had definite set-ups for a central registration bureau, but a number of others had arrangements whereby they were doing fairly good work in affording relief to this class of the would-be-employed.

"Why is it, Madam Secretary, when there is all this hue and cry about too little work, that those who do have employment are being forced to work nights and Sundays in order to hold their jobs?"

And the Labor Secretary replies:

"Just one of the strange paradoxes of human behavior. When times get difficult and consumers begin to hold back their money, certain short-sighted employers get panicky. They try to continue to make profits by getting more labor for their money.

"The law of supply and demand aids them at such a time in the prosecution of such policies. What can a worker do? She knows if she quits, someone else will be glad of her job, no matter what the wage.

"Short-sighted employers try to get more labor for their money. . . . What can a worker do? She knows if she quits someone else will be glad of her job, no matter what the wage."

"EVEN employers who are reluctant to follow suit and thus work their labor overtime with starvation wages are up against the competition of others who are in business with selfishness and inhumanity.

"Human nature does not reason well en masse. Employers cut off their own noses when they decrease the purchasing power of potential consumers by drastic wage cutting. Thoughtful persons know that the most enlightened selfishness would protect itself by a policy of high wage levels.

"There remains only one thing to do, as I see it, to protect the good employer and the worker. Have minimum requirement labor laws and enforce them to the letter.

"HERE is a letter I received from a very fine woman employer just a few days ago. Read what she says. It is very interesting."

Herewith is the letter, in part:

"Dear Miss Perkins: For a year I have been active in trying to get legislation in Massachusetts to enforce the Minimum Wage Law . . .

"All high-grade manufacturers are willing to pay their employes a living wage, but too many of us are nearing bankruptcy on account of sweatshop competition . . .

"In my investigations I have found that many owners of sweatshops today formerly were employes in some factory. But, now that they own a business, they do not hesitate to crush the lives of their employes . . .

"I realize what a tremendous task you have ahead of you to straighten out the tangle.

"EVERY day I pray that our business may be saved so that faithful employes who have been with us for 22 years may not be deprived of their livelihood."

Of the 11,000,000 women who have been working in the last few years prior to 1929, it is startling to learn that only a minority have ever made a decent living wage even in our prosperous years, and all too few of the women in industry have ever enjoyed a working day as short as eight hours, or a working week held down to 48 hours. Women's Bureau investigations have constantly proved this point.

A work day of eight hours or less was reported for only one-fifth of the 227,000 women working in 2700 factories, stores and laundries scattered throughout 16 states which were studied by the Women's Bureau during the period 1919 to 1928.

Twelve states were surveyed by the Women's Bureau from 1921 to 1929, and it was found that the median of week's earnings of full-time women workers ranged from $16.25 to $9.80. Half of the women in each case earned less than the median.

BUSINESS in most of the shops was conducted on a hand-to-mouth scale. Rush orders were the rule. One week the entire plant might work overtime, and the next week the shop would be practically closed.

These official investigations of the Bureau tend to report average conditions, whereas individual case histories are much more heartrending.

Mrs. Helen P. Gans of the New York City Consumers' League has reported women making 50 cents a day working on rugs for which they receive $1 each. Finishers on velvet pajamas receive only 40 cents a dozen, she said, and cannot finish a dozen pairs in one day. An expert lamp shade maker, formerly commanding $35 per week, now receives $4.62 for a 40-hour week, binding tops and bottoms of lamp shades.

Cases have been cited in Connecticut where it was said girls were paid less than $1 a week. Certain employers have a scheme, it is claimed, of enticing beginners to come and work for nothing to learn the trade. Girls are fired each two or three weeks and a new crop of "students" is taken on.

CHURCH GROUP TOLD OF LIFE IN PHILIPPINES

ORANGE, June 16.—The Philippine Islands were discussed at the meeting of the Missionary society at the First Presbyterian church Thursday with Mrs. Clyde Watson heading the program committee. Reports from mission workers were read before the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Harry Upham, of Covina, was introduced.

Mrs. C. B. Harper conducted the devotional service and sang a solo. Mrs. F. E. Harrison offered the opening prayer. Mrs. A. Haven Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Ockles sang, "Consider the Lilies."

Mrs. Upham described a day in the Philippines, where she lived for several years. She told of life in a provincial town where the population is awakened by the ringing of many bells calling worshippers to early mass in churches many of which are 300 years old.

The tall cotton trees from which cotton is gathered were described. Of especial interest were the details of a banquet where the plates for the eight courses were stacked at the places of each guest before the meal begins.

Mrs. T. H. Elijah told of the work being done in the hospitals and Mrs. E. N. Turner had secured a great deal of information regarding the schools of the islands from a friend who is the principal of the high school at Manila. Mrs. Ethel Niquette presided.

DIPLOMAS ARE PRESENTED TO GRADUATES LUTHERAN SCHOOL

ORANGE, June 16.—Impressive graduation exercises were conducted at the Walker Memorial hall last night when pupils of the eighth grade of the St. John's Lutheran school who had finished the prescribed course were presented with diplomas.

The address of welcome was made by an honor student, Irene Simon, and other numbers on the program included a piano solo by Edward Bergeman, a reading by Ruth Taute, violin solo, Bernard Cook, cello solo, Gertrude Amling, piano solo by Clarence Borchard.

One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was the play, "Patriotism In Borgsville," which was planned by the students themselves. The farewell address was made by Gertrude Amling, who headed her class in scholastic achievement. Diplomas were presented by Principal William J. Batterman. A picnic was held at Irvine park today.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

By VERNA RAMSEY

Sir James Jeans says: "This century which has run less than a third of its course has already witnessed two great upheavals in physical science. They are associated with the words Relativity and Quanta, and have forced the physicist of today to adopt a philosophical outlook which is whole worlds removed from that of his 19th century predecessor."

In "The New Background of Science," he discusses these great changes that have come to scientific thinking. He tells how scientists came to search for and find a new background such as should effect a reconciliation between the Nature of the laboratory and the Nature of everyday experience. Scientific advances were made by Einstein, Bohr, Heisenberg and others. Because of their work the Theory of Relativity has displaced Newton's theory of Gravitation. Science has extended the range and amplified the power of our senses. Sir James Jeans discusses the implications of the present position of science. Among his chapter headings are: The Approach to the External World; the Methods of Science; The Framework of the External World—Space and Time; Mechanism; The Texture of the External World—Matter and Radiation; Wave Mechanics.

Everything that Sir James Jeans writes is marked by clarity and mastery of the subject. This book is written for those who have no special knowledge of science. Each abstuse point is illustrated with vivid parallels from everyday experience. "The New Background of Science" opens up new vistas for the imagination and enables the intelligent layman to construct a new world, which shall take account of the vast forward movement of science.

The inside story of most of the prisons of the United States seems to be an unpleasant one. The tale as told by various inmates is usually one of unfairness and unnecessary harshness. James R. Winning tells his unhappy experiences in "Behind These Walls."

This in an account of the experiences of the author in a state penitentiary to which he was sentenced for ten years for robbery while armed. It is an expose of old and brutal methods which unfortunately still exist in some of our prisons. But is much more than that. It is an arrangement of our whole method of punishing crime—a method which the author believes does not reform criminals or accomplish anything except the brutalization of all concerned, jailer and jailed.

The author writes with the force of black experience of the shuffle of prisoner's feet on the flagstone. We see the gray faces and the shifty eyes of the men. We are told terrible things about the overcrowded and badly ventilated buildings, the disgusting condition of the cells, the wretched food, the horrible diseases that spread like wildfire, the brutality of guards, and the horror of the solitary confinement cell.

He himself was one of the leaders in a general revolt in which several hundred prisoners died needlessly. Throughout the book one is impressed by the prisoner's loyalty to each other and by their almost incredible endurance.

The modern world is getting farther and farther from the blind worship of youth and youthful qualities. More and more is recognized the superior advantages of age. In order that these may be fully realized, many things associated with age should be cleared away and others remade. It was this viewpoint that Lillien Martin and Clare de Gruchy wrote "Sweeping the Cobwebs."

This book contains much invaluable advice. For the man and woman over forty who feel a loss of energy and initiative—who long for a better job, or a happier state of mind—here are sensible and practical suggestions for regaining their grip and going on to greater achievement. Dr. Martin (still a successful consulting psychologist at the age of eighty), and her collaborator, Miss de Gruchy tell in concrete detail how they have helped people who dread advancing age to overcome their handicaps, both real and imaginary, and how people can help themselves.

This book was inspired by the many letters received by the authors asking for more definite information as to the methods used in the work described in their previous book, "Salvaging Old Age." "Sweeping the Cobwebs answers these inquiries. Not only those who are facing fifty, sixty, or seventy but employment managers, social workers, homemakers—all who have to do with elderly people—will find value in this account of the salvaging of old age by applying common sense, humor and psychology to the problem.

COYOTE SHOT BY ORANGE RANCHER

ORANGE, June 16.—Dan Gruwell, well known rancher of Handy street, has a coyote story he is telling his friends which reveals almost human reasoning powers on the part of one of the rarely seen animals. Hearing a disturbance in his chicken pen early one morning this week, Gruwell took his rifle and went out to investigate.

The rancher evidently interrupted an exciting game being carried on by the coyote, that of scaring the chickens through a small hole he had scratched in the chicken net. The coyote ran around and around outside of the pen and the frightened chicken eventually would shoot through the opening, where the animal nabbed them.

When Gruwell arrived on the scene 14 of his 21 chickens had been killed in this way and a number of them were half eaten. The coyote made off through an orange grove with a chicken in his mouth but a well-directed shot brought him down. Gruwell says that an animal of this species has not been seen around Orange for many years.

R. P. C. Class In Sewing Meeting

ORANGE, June 16. — Holding their June meeting yesterday, members of the R. P. C. class of First Methodist church were guests in the home of Mrs. Eric Kuechel, North Shaffer street. A covered dish luncheon served at noon was a feature of the day, much of which was devoted to sewing.

Those present with the hostess, Mrs. Kuechel, were Mrs. Mary Williams, Mrs. Alice Bell, Mrs. Louise Streech, Mrs. Kenneth Claypol and daughter, Virginia; Mrs. Jewel Gulledge, Mrs. M. M. Fishback and George Sunbury.

A Picture
to Study and Keep

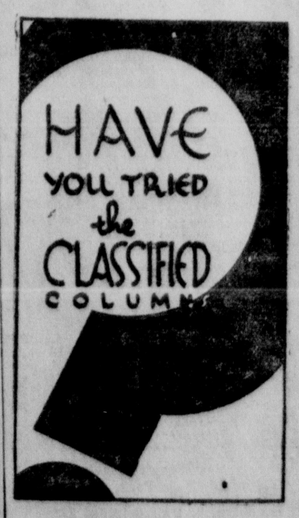

Realizing that practically every Southern California automobile owner will at some time in the near future make a trip to see the colossal Hoover Dam, the Los Angeles Times sent its staff artist, Charles H. Owens, to make a detailed study from the ground and air and to attempt the seemingly impossible task of reproducing the whole terrain and all the ramified activities in a single large-scale visualization.

The result is one of the most successful and difficult panoramic pictures Mr. Owens has ever produced, which will appear as a double-page feature in the Rotogravure Section of the forthcoming Sunday Times.

For the visitor at the Dam, this panoramic picture has the same value as the program at an entertainment, for without it the whole vast project becomes a meaningless jumble of gigantic, unrelated activities.

Those desiring extra copies for eastern teachers, librarians, engineers, contractors and friends should place orders in advance with their local agent or news dealer.

Johnny Lands the Open Title

For several years, Johnny Goodman, Omaha golfer, has upset open and amateur champions to scramble golf dope, and yet just missed out on a title himself. He's shown a champ at last, with the trophy he won in taking the national open in Chicago.

SURVEYING CURRENT SPORTS IN COMPANY WITH M'LEMORE

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 16.—(UP)—Putting the sports shot here and there:

The Country club in Brookline, where the 1934 National Amateur golf championship is to be played, is designed after the St. Andrew's course in Scotland.... it previously has been the scene of the National Amateur, National Open, and Walker Cup....when the Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals get together it's like a family reunion....eight Red players formerly worked with St. Louis, and four Cards have worn Cincinnati uniforms.....the ex-Cards are Adams ,Hafey, Bottomley, Derringer, Roettger, Stout, High and Frey....the ex-Reds are Durocher, Crawford, Allen and Crabtree....

Being a sports captain at Rhode Island State college is something like being a general in the Mexican army....five co-captains have been appointed for the 1932 track team, and two field captains and one honorary captain for the 1934 baseball squad.....Harriet Smith, 15, buxom Brookline, Mass. girl, is now pitching for a men's sandlot team in Cambridge, after ten years with women's professional teams....

Paul Waner, ace outfielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, might make out all right as a prophet when he finishes with baseball....last fall Paul said the day of the .400 hitter was over, and a glance at the averages prove he was not only right but conservative....

Tom Gallery, newly-oppointed matchmaker for the Olympic auditorium in Los Angeles, once was married to Zazu Pitts, she of the fluttery hands....Gallery went to the coast originally to crash the films but failed, the story being that he was too good looking to be a villian and not good enough actor to be a hero....the Olympic is where Jack Doyle makes money....Doyle has little success outdoors, however, his recent floppero being the Corbett-McLarnin item which put him some $25,000 in the red....Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette U's great sprinter, has equalled or broken the world's record every standard sprinting distance in the books ....Ralph is considering two invitations to exhibit his speed in Europe this summer....

Jesse Harper, athletic director at Notre Dame, is the country's hottest wrestling fan....he'll walk fly, swim or bicycle for miles to get near the ringside.....Ossie Bluege of the Senators had rather ride in the cab of a locomotive than hit a homer with the bases full....they're using wooden mashies in England a lot these days....The folks who use 'em swear they're much more accurate and dependable than steel blades....isn't it about time for Bill Tilden to retire again? or hasn't he ever definitely won the "world's professional championship?....and we wonder if "Babe" Didrikson (remember her?) has made that million she said turning pro would bring her?

Wrestlers Wear Boxing Gloves to Decide Mat Feud

PASADENA, June 16.—(UP)—The old sporting question of what two wrestlers would do with a pair of boxing gloves, if anything, was tested here last night in a bout which went two rounds before Steve Strelich, ruler of California's light heavyweight wrestling ranks, applied a knockout to George Maloney.

Strelich made good use of the gloves by pushing the fight until he had his adversary stretched on the canvas. The fight had been billed as a "grudge battle" to settle an old mat feud. Strelich conceded Maloney 35 pounds, scaling 171.

DADO CLAIMS HURT, QUITS LEGION BOUT

HOLLYWOOD, June 16.—(UP)—Speedy Dado was adamant today in refusing to go on with a scheduled 10-round fight here tonight with Joe Tieken, Sacramento Japanese.

The Filipino bantamweight displayed an injured thumb which he said would preclude his appearance in the ring. His statement was corroborated by his manager, Jesus Cortez, who asserted he had an affidavit from a Hollywood physician pronouncing the battler unfit for service. Dado has not trained for the battle.

Should Dado refuse to put in an appearance, Tieken will engage Chris Pineda, Filipino bantamweight, in the main event, Legion stadium officials said.

YOUNG SEACORD OPPOSES NEVA IN ROAD GAME

Unable this year to beat even the mine-run of National league teams, Santa Ana's chastened Stars must travel to Torrance tonight to play the No. 1 club of the confederacy, a rampaging outfit with 11 straight wins to its credit.

This contest formally closes the second round of the pennant race, two-thirds of the so-called "first half" of the split schedule.

Only Anaheim has been able to stop Torrance this year. The champion Valencias outlucked the Terrors, 2-1 in 11 innings May 5, the second night of the season, but nobody else has tamed them since. Santa Ana almost did, 9-8, in a 10-inning struggle here May 23, and Fullerton carried the leaders 19 rounds last week, but always "Spud" Murphy's men have had enough to finish in front.

Terrors Far Ahead

Three full games ahead with only eight more to go, Torrance has virtually cinched the first-half title which automatically qualifies it for the league playoffs. The club so far has shown superb pitching, a commendable defense and a batting attack that has disturbed all the best hurlers of the year.

The Brothers Neva, Louie and Paul, are Torrance's men-of-the-hour although there are other long range hitters too. Third Baseman Dan Leonard has blasted his share of extra baseknocks and so have Second Baseman "Red" Watson and Outfielder Hal Forney, husky football players from Caltech and U. S. C., respectively.

Seacord Hurls for S. A.

Wilson Seacord will work for the Stars. The Tustin kid has turned in several nice games, showing not a trace of nervousness, and if his mates mobilize some runs for him he might end Torrance's long winning streak. Seacord has been responsible for only 4 runs in 23 innings.

Climbing rapidly after a typically slow start, Anaheim entertains Huntington Beach in another good attraction tonight. The rejuvenated Whittier team, which shutout the Oilers Tuesday, invades Westminster. Olive goes to Fullerton.

The standings:

The First National bank today slipped into second place in the Santa Ana City league, following its 5-3 triumph over Hoffman's Bottomery at the Municipal Bowl last night.

Gene Hitt, veteran First National pitcher, held the Rebottomers to five hits and one earned run which came in the last inning on Montgomery's triple and Beaver's single. The Bankers did most of their run-making in the second when Southworth, Jiles, Kuhn and Youel all hit safely. What proved to be the winning runs were produced in the sixth on Collins' walk, Hitt's sacrifice, Hall's double and Kuhn's single.

With Joe Ochoa in his old-time form, the First Baptists easily defeated Weber's bakery, 9-2, in the curtain-raiser. Ochoa fanned 11 in 7 innings and gave only three hits. He also helped his own cause with a homer.

The United Presbyterians and the South Methodists play a non-league game at the Bowl tonight.

Begin Trials For College, Prep Meets

CHICAGO, June 16.—(UP)—With virtually every outstanding athlete in the country entered, the World's Fair National Collegiate track and field meet opened today at Soldier field.

At the same time high school athletes from 25 states participated in the preliminaries of the 37th annual National Interscholastic track and field meet.

Trials in thirteen of the 15 N. C. A. A. events were scheduled today, with the finals Saturday night. The finals in the high school meet will be held tomorrow afternoon.

MILLS DEFEATS FOSTER IN SUB ROLE AT DELHI

Employing what by now is a rather shopworn although perhaps valid excuse, "Dummy" Mahan failed to appear at Delhi last night to defend his state amateur lightweight title against Neal Foster, a Long Beach challenger who gave the same reason for non-appearance last week.

In Mahan's absence—which club officials were honest enough to announce before the show opened—Foster went into the main event against Irvine's Nat Mills, and Mills spoiled plans for the Foster-Mahan rematch by decisively defeating Foster all the way.

Mills piled up a tremendous point margin in the first two rounds and held the spurting Foster no worse than even in the third. The decision of judges and Referee Kim Pratt was unanimous.

Mills' victory supposedly entitles him to another chance at Mahan's title within two weeks.

Bill Wana, Westminster welterweight and Delhi's most consistent artist, made a punching bag of Al Calvery in the semi-windup. Wana is too rugged and clever for most of the amateurs.

Pat Gillan kayoed Tony Ursua in the special event although Tony looked plenty good until little Pat's wicked left put him down in the last of the first round.

Other results:

Louie Hernandez stopped Al Valdez in one; Doyle Richards overcame two knockdowns to decision Sol Simons; Paul Brown also got off the floor to whip John Orosco on points; Art Sharon knocked out George Jason in the first; Al Garcia kayoed Johnny Martinez in two; John Nandez outpointed George Bard, and Don DeMarzo stopped Johnny Datto in one.

MRS. PIXLEY FIRST IN 'A' MEDAL PLAY

Mrs. Osman Pixley won the Santa Ana Country club's Class A medal play sweepstakes for women yesterday, scoring a 93-14-79. Miss Lolita Mead was second with 95-12-83. Mrs. Dean Campbell, 105-20-85, and Mrs. Hugh Shields, 102-17-85, tied for third.

Other results: Class B—Mrs. W. F. Kistinger, 108-25-83; Mrs. W. N. Prince, 115-28-87; Mrs. R. G. Cartwright, 114-27-87; Miss Lou Pomeroy, 113-26-87. Class C—Mrs. E. H. Guthier, 125-38-87; Mrs. T. R. Griffith jr., 125-38-87; Mrs. Nat Neff, 130-40-90.

Hollywood Peddles Yde, Jack Sherlock

HOLLYWOOD, June 16.—(UP)—Emil Yde, holdout pitcher on the Hollywood mound staff, has signed a contract with St. Paul of the American association, according to information received by Bill Lane, president of the Pacific Coast league. Lane disposed of Yde's services for $7500.

REBUILT RED SOX IN CLIMB FROM CELLAR

NEW YORK, June 16.—(UP)—The Boston Red Sox, one of the most changed clubs in the major leagues, ushered in the mid-June deadline on rebuilding by rising out of the American league cellar through their fourth straight victory over the world champion New York Yankees.

During the past eight-and-a-half of bartering, the Red Sox not only acquired player strength, but on February 25 they acquired a new owner, Thomas Yawkey, 30-year-old New York millionaire, and a new vice president, Eddie Collins, former right-hand man of Connie Mack.

Players acquired during the trading season included Infielder Berny Friberg from the Phillies; Johnny Hodapp, Bob Fothergill and Bob Seeds from the White Sox, and George Pipgras and Bill Werber from the Yankees.

The deadline on buying and trading went into effect at midnight last night, so the Bostonians will battle it out for the rest of the season with their present squad—a line-up capable of furnishing plenty of opposition to other clubs, although not of pennant caliber.

COLTON GAINS WHEN RIALTO LOSES AGAIN

By defeating Ponoma in 13 innings, 4-3, Colton's Reds advanced within a single game of Rialto in the American Night league when Rialto suffered its third successive setback Tuesday night. Riverside beat Al Morgan's Millionaires, 5-2, getting to Venn Botts for four runs in the first inning.

The standings:

"BIG TRAIN" BREAKS SILENCE

Walter Johnson Surprised To Get Cleveland Position

HADN'T SEEN GAME ALL YEAR

BY "BUD" SHAVER
(I. N. S. Special Correspondent)

DETROIT, June 16.—(INS)—Walter Johnson is no more given to loose talk than a tongue-tied clam, but in the privacy of the hotel boudoir which Frank Navin has tastefully furnished for the visiting athletes, the "Big Train" broke his silence with a broad grin.

He was even induced to puff forth a few words in connection with his new job as manager of Cleveland's Indians, succeeding his old teammate, Roger Peckinpaugh.

He disclosed that he was having a "pretty goo dtime" down on his farm in Maryland, when he was "much surprised" to receive Billy Evans' offer to pilot the Redskins. He hadn't seen a ball game all year, he said, until Saturday's game when he watched the Indians.

"I can't say much about our chances in the pennant race," Johnson explained, "because I've scarcely been around long enough to look over the crew. Some of these boys I had never set eyes on until I took over the job Sunday.

"We'll win some games, all right. There are some splendid hitters on this club, but they just ain't been hitting. Good looking young pitchers, too . . . "

Walter gazed fondly at young Oral Hildebrand, who at the moment was stepping out the door with his hair slicked back and his ears still very erect. Hildebrand has just turned in his second victory in a row for Walter, both of them 1 to 0 shutouts.

The "Big Train" understands that kind of pitching. He used to do a lot of it himself.

He steadfastly denied any anxiety about the Indians' failure to hit. "It isn't as if they were a bunch of rookies," he said. "Averill, Kamm, Cissell and Vosmik are seasoned veteran hitters. They've hit before and they'll do it again. You can't keep baseball players of that caliber down indefinitely."

He admitted, however, that he would like a good southpaw pitcher on the Indian staff.

"What manager wouldn't?" he inquired.

GOLF PRO DENIES CHARGE OF WIFE

Joe Szarfinski, former golf professional at the old Newport Golf course, now of San Diego, pleaded not guilty to a charge of non-support of a minor child when he appeared before Judge James S. Allen in superior court this morning.

The defendant waived trial by jury, and the case was set for hearing on July 5. Franklin West was appointed defense attorney by the court.

NEW YORK, June 16.—(UP)—A four-mile gallop is just a warm-up for Watch Her, two-year-old filly owned by Bernard M. Baruch.

She threw her rider and ran away just before the scheduled start of a four-and-a-half furlongs race at Belmont Park yesterday. After a long run through woods and across fields she was brought back to the starting post. She had been a 6 to 5 favorite, but after her break sharpshooters offered up to 150 to one against her. She won in the good time of 0:52 3-5.

Elder, Grant Sign Up For Match Race

George ("Sprouts") Elder, world's champion short-track motorcycle pilot, will meet Ray Grant, most successful here of all riders, in a special two-law match race at the Municipal Bowl tomorrow night.

The Elder-Grant skirmish will be an added attraction to regular scratch races and lap record attempts in which Elder will be a participant. Grant, a Portland, Ore., boy, won race after race in the Bowl last summer, being the outstanding pilot of the Santa Ana season. Rival broadsiders called the Bowl "Grant's track."

Twenty events appear on the Saturday program and every outstanding driver in the state will be entered. Promoter Floyd Clymer claims his card is the most pretentious ever offered in Southern California.

Behind the brilliant pitching of Wilbur Stinchfield, one of Orange's own products, Santa Ana's Green Cats swept into first place in the County Night league after defeating Orange, 6-2, last night at Orange.

Stinchfield, a big high school boy, mowed down his fellow townsmen with relentless proficiency. He struck out 13 and scattered his six hits so well that he might have earned a shutout but for two scratch hits in the seventh inning. Curt Youel, Orange's best hitter, was a fanout victim four times.

The "Cats" got away to a running start with three runs in the second and three more in the fourth. Al Walters, Orange's manager, relieved Pitcher Montoya after the second rally and hurled shutout ball the rest of the journey although tapped for three hits in the sixth.

Dungan's single, Heard's life on an error and successive singles by Seacord, Andres and Reboin produced the cluster of the three tallies in the second. Blows by Dungan, Heard and Reboin and an error on Andres accounted for the others.

MEXICAN RING ACES INVADE L. A. RINGS

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—(UP)—Two of Mexico's young but seasoned ring warriors invade Los Angeles next week in quest of new honors. "Baby Face" Casanova and Kid Azteca will leave Mexico City Monday by airplane for Los Angeles.

Young Tommy, state bantamweight titleholder, is slated to meet Casanova at the Olympic auditorium July 11. Tommy will not have his crown at stake. He lost a previous encounter to the Mexican.

Azteca's appearance June 27 against Ceferino Garcia, state welter champion, will be his first in an American ring.

Giants Sell Starr To Boston Braves

DEMPSEY MAY PROMOTE TITLE GO WITH BAER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 16.—(INS)—A definite break between Jack Sharkey and Madison Square Garden was declared today by the heavyweight champion and his manager, Johnny Buckley, leading up to what they believe will be a $700,000 meeting with Max Baer next year for the heavyweight championship.

Either John Dempsey, the personality man, or James J. Johnston, the master of rhetoric, will get this match, it was said.

"Dempsey will be all right with us, if Johnston isn't available," Buckley declared, conveniently forgetting that Dempsey already controls 50 percent of the match even before it is made. "If Johnston is still tied up with Madison Square Garden, that will be his misfortune.

"We're through there with the Carnera fight late this month. If the Archbishop of Canterbury took charge of the Garden, we'd still be through."

Has Way "Out"

From another source, it was learned that Sharkey is seeking his "out" through the convenient avenue that provided Schmeling with an excuse to take his trade elsewhere—the allotment of tickets. But other, less credulous, are liable to be impressed with the coincidence involved in Buckley's announcement today and Dempsey's visit to the Sharkey camp Wednesday.

Nevertheless, it is known that tickets Sharkey will be permitted to buy for his own prize fight have been delivered to him; that less than twenty-five of these are in the first five rows and none at all in the first row. He has ordered 130 tickets altogether and the rest of them range from the eighteenth to the twenty-third row. However, if you are known to the right people and your composure is not greatly shaken by Tiffany prices, there is always the bare possibility that you can make more satisfactory arrangements elsewhere.

Plot to Boycott Garden

However, the ticket thing is believed to be largely a pretext. According to stories that have been in circulation before and since the Baer-Schmeling fight, there is something of an elaborate plot in the making to boycott the Garden out of further control of the heavyweight situation. Even Carnera is said to be a tacit party to this understanding, although he is still on paper for another fight there in case he wins from Sharkey.

But this contract, according to a boxing commission precedent, has no standing unless accompanied by another name, the commission having brightly decided that it takes two men to make one prize fight. So the only result of a Carnera victory on June 29 would be this: A Baer-Carnera fight in September, instead of a Baer-Sharkey fight next year.

NET QUEEN RECOVERS FROM INDISPOSITION

BECKENHAM, Eng., June 16.—(UP)—Helen Wills Moody will carry out her European tennis campaign as planned, she announced last night, explaining that she had recovered completely from a "slight indisposition" which coused her to postpone a match yesterday until the cool of the evening.

Elder Wins From Lamoreaux, Grant

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—(UP)—"Sprouts" Elder, British motorcycle ace, captured the final scratch race on last night's program at White Sox park, defeating "Lammy Lamoreaux of Pasadena and Ray Grant of Portland in that order.

Elder won the final event after being vanquished by Cordy Milne, Hollywood driver, in a special match race. The finel handicap race was won by Grant with Cordy Milne finishing second and Jack Milne, his brother, third.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

The lion wagged his tail a bit and Dotty shouted, "Think of it! Why, I believe he's friendly. Maybe we are quite all right.

"Of course, if he begins to roar, I will be very scared, once more. Perhaps it's safer to stay right up in this tree till night."

"Of course it is," snapped Goldy. "You can bet that's what I'm going to do. I wouldn't trust a lion farther than a frog can hop.

"I'll sit right up here on this limb, so I can keep away from him. I know 'twould be the end of me, if I'd decide to drop."

• • •

Then Duncy said, "I guess you're right. In fact, we're in an awful plight. I wish someone would come along and scare the beast away.

"Just look! He's being funny, now. He's trying to get us down, somehow. Those antics are supposed to make us think he wants to play."

The lion then whirled 'round and 'round and shortly flopped upon the ground. The crazy stunts made Dotty laugh. "That beast is trained," she cried.

"Why, honestly, I almost feel that, after all, he isn't real. Look closely and you'll see he has a very funny hide."

• • •

"You're right," a real faint voice cried out. "You've guessed what this is all about." "Who said that?" shouted Duncy. "I can't see a soul around."

The lion then spread right in two. The same faint voice said, "Howdy do! Why stay up in the tree, when it is safe down on the ground?"

'Twas Scouty, in the lion's hide. And Windy, too! Wee Duncy cried, "Three cheers for my two little pals. Let's get out of the tree."

In just a moment they were out. Said Goldy, "What's it all about? You finding us, I must admit, is strange as it can be."

ORANGE COUNTY LIONS PLANNING ON CONVENTION

Elliott W. Rowland, Santa Ana international director of Fourth district of Lions International, will be a featured speaker at an annual district convention to be held in Santa Barbara on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, it was learned today.

Many members of Santa Ana Lions club and other Lions clubs in Orange county plan to attend the convention of the district, which comprises California, Nevada and Hawaii.

Santa Barbara has made preparations for 3000 Lions and guests. Polo, a golf tournament, a horse show, and inspection of the Pacific fleet are events planned for the entertainment of the convention guests.

RIDING ACADEMY OPENED AT ORANGE

Smith, a Kentuckian, has bred, trained and shown horses since he was a youth and has nothing but three and five-gaited horses at the academy. The majority of his stock is Kentucky thoroughbred.

In addition to renting horses for rides, Smith specializes in instructing children in horsemanship. One of his most recent pupils, a six-year-old Upland boy, after a few months of instruction won first place for horsemanship at the junior horse show in Claremont and second place at the Flintridge show, competing against boys under 18 years. Smith also gives class and individual instruction to adults.

Some of the horses have been trained to do tricks.

TIM M'COY FILM AT WALKER STATE

Tim steps a little out of his usual grim-visaged character in "Man of Action" and plays a happy-go-lucky cowboy. Tim McCoy fans can be assured of an abundant supply of typical Jones fast riding and quick shooting in this altogether plausible and pleasing story of the west when the law was on the side of the party with the fastest "draw."

"I am forty-seven years old. I have been suffering from terrible headaches and nervousness. All the time I felt weak and tired. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound surely is helping me. My nerves are better. I sleep well and feel well and strong."—Mrs. C. Richards, 870 Coney Island Ave., Brooklyn, New York.

Alleged Forger Of Check Sought

Pleading a hard luck tale of having a flat tire "several blocks down the road," a man giving the name of R. A. Cook bought a tube and passed a fictitious check to the operator of a General Petroleum service station at 807 West Fourth street, it was reported to police yesterday.

Cook presented a check made out in the name of R. F. Chandler, which was discovered to be a forgery when turned in to the bank by the oil company. The check was for $5.75, which gave Cook four dollars in change.

CITIZENS PLAN DISCUSSION ON BOND ELECTION

SEAL BEACH, June 16.—The $65,000 school bond issue next Monday will be discussed at an open forum meeting in the city hall auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. The meeting is sponsored by the members of the school board, who urge every voter who is interested in the proposition either for or against, to be present so that all viewpoints may be given a hearing.

According to plans that have been prepared, the proposed structure will be of reinforced concrete; facing on the Coast highway and will be far enough removed so that the street noises will not disturb the classes. The present school was badly damaged by the earthquake.

It is the opinion of some that a stucco building is a much lower cost will meet the needs of the district for many years to come. Others contend that as the city grows it will probably be realized that the present location of the school is not the most desirable, located as it is on a major highway. The proponents of the measure, however, hold that the chief assets of Southern California are the climate and the school facilities; if Seal Beach lags behind in school development, people will go to other communities to reside and to educate their children.

Knox, Injured in Crash, Improved

William G. Knox, former city manager, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident last Friday night, is showing definite improvement.

Knox was returning to his duties at Camp Berdoo, M. W. O. camp near Indio, after having attended the graduation of his daughter, Miss Marjorie Knox, from Tustin Union high school at the time of the accident. His injuries included a punctured lung and a badly splintered leg.

Start Movement To Recall San Clemente Councilmen

MAYOR NAMED IN PETITION FOR OUSTER

The notice of the intention to recall three old members of the City Council in San Clemente was published according to law in the El Heraldo, San Clemente, today. Notice of same will be served upon Mayor Murphine, Councilmen Von BonHurst and Oliver Robertson.

According to law, a notice of the reasons for recall must be published in the local paper, and then the councilmen who are to be recalled have two weeks to answer same by like publication; thereupon the recallers print both the complaint and the answer upon the recall petition, which is then circulated. If 25 per cent of the qualified electors sign said petition, the city council must call an election to decide whether the councilmen are to be recalled or not.

Serious Charges

The petition charges the city council with carelessness, extravagance, etc. It is alleged that the city taxes of San Clemente, under the present councilmen, have leaped from approximately $9000 to $37,000, or nearly four times; it is also charged that confiscated liquor was handled by the police in an illegal manner.

The city council of San Clemente consists of five members, but when the present fight divided San Clemente, Councilman H. H. Cotton, following a dispute between himself and the three members sought to be recalled, resigned.

Immediately thereafter Councilman Plume resigned on account of pressing business matters in Glendale. A. T. Smith was chosen as the fourth councilman, and tonight the council as now constituted will elect a fifth member.

Oil on Fire

The appointment of the mayor's son, Thomas F. Murphine jr., as acting chief of police and the purchase for his use of a new car, it is alleged, poured more oil on the fire. Previously the police were compelled to furnish their own equipment. Murphine, it is said, does not receive as large a salary as the experienced police officers heretofore, but it is alleged that his net is much larger than the previous officers.

The fight is said to have started over traffic arrests on the highway where the notice of recall alleges the police were supposed, under direction of the council, to collect not less than $1000 per month. The protestants claim that these arrests gave San Clemente a bad name and kept people from stopping at San Clemente.

Unemployed Of City Back Proposition 2

A resolution urging citizens of Orange county to exert every effort to obtain a unanimous vote on Proposition No. 2 on the state ballot which will be voted on at the June 27 election has been adopted by the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana, it was announced today.

Proposition No. 2 is a state measure which would authorize the issuance and sale of $20,000,000 of self-liquidating bonds by the state to be loaned to the counties for unemployment relief.

BUSINESS UPSWING REFLECTED IN SALES OF NEW MOTOR CARS

As further evidence of a national upswing in the automobile business, William R. Gordon, manager of the Reid Motor company, today announced the sale of 10 new Pontiacs and seven new Buicks during the past five weeks, a substantial increase over previous periods.

The new Buick sedan owners are J. S. Smart, Mabel S. Burke, W. C. Childers, the county of Orange, of Santa Ana, and C. M. Truby of Fullerton.

Those who purchased new Pontiac sedans are C. N. Whittam, N. E. Whittam, R. J. Mulvey, William G. May, Hiram M. Curry, Sarah B. Janson, Southern Counties Gas company, and C. W. Todd of Orange, while C. M. Whittam and D. J. Seavy have coupes.

Ford Sedan Sets Economy Records In Severe Tests

In an economy test run, held recently at Bartlesville, Okla., a new Ford V-8 Tudor sedan set up the remarkable record of an average of 18.8 miles per gallon for fuel for 10,054.9 miles. The run was sponsored by the Bartlesville Daily Enterprise, according to the Dunton Ford agency in Santa Ana.

Packed into the run were more miles than the average driver covers in a year's time. The run was made under all kinds of weather conditions including heavy rain and strong winds. Temperatures reached as high as 94 degrees.

Operating at a speed of fifty miles or more per hour over good and bad roads, up and down hills, through rain, fog and mud for 10 days and nights, it averaged 18.8 miles per gallon. No oil was added between 1000-mile changes and not one cent expended for repairs.

Court Notes

Howard L. Way jr., San Bernardino, has been fined $8 in Police Judge J. G. Mitchell's court for speeding.

Appearing yesterday before Judge Kenneth Morrison, Jose Gutierrez, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, had his case continued until June 21. He is held in the county jail under $1000 bail. He was arrested June 9 on a warrant issued Feb. 4, 1931.

FACES THIRD CHARGE AFTER POSTING BAIL

George Keller, 45, La Jolla salesman, finally secured his freedom from the county jail last night on a third charge of conspiring to violate the corporate securities act, by posting $2500 bond on each of two counts after previously posting a total of $15,000 on two charges during the past week.

Keller was released on a federal charge Tuesday by posting $5000 in bail, but was rebooked on a complaint by Herman Zabel, superintendent of the county record bureau, and brought before Judge Kenneth Morrison Wednesday. Morrison fixed bail on the grand theft charge at $10,000, which Keller raised Wednesday night, but his freedom was delayed when a third charge was placed against him.

The preliminary hearing on the charges will be held June 26. Keller is accused of selling securities and failing to deliver them and has been sought by county authorities for three years.

In the complaint which kept Keller in the county jail, it is charged in two counts that he conspired to violate the corporate securities act by selling foreign stock to R. C. Howell on February 5, 1930. Keller was accused jointly in 1930 with four other defendants but they have been dropped in the action. The complaining witness is Frederick Bahles, deputy commissioner of corporations for California.

The grand theft charge on which Keller posted his $10,000 bond Wednesday was brought by Mrs. Letty Shoemaker, 418 South Main street, Santa Ana.

Degrees Awarded Three Members Of Cianfoni Family

Three members of the family of D. C. Cianfoni, Santa Ana Municipal band director, received university degrees this month from U. S. C. They were Mary Cianfoni, who graduated with high honors from the School of Speech; Orest Cianfoni, who after winning the annual contest for the best original musical composition for two consecutive years,, and a scholarship for the best composition, was graduated from the College of Music; and Margaret Cianfoni, teacher in the Fullerton High school, who received her M. A. degree. All three members of the Cianfoni family were active in school affairs during their university years.

La Habra Court Fines Four Men

LA HABRA, June 16. — D. M. Standlee, oil worker, formerly of La Habra and Whittier, but giving his present address as Newport Beach, arrested Monday evening by Night Officer Chet Riley and charged with intoxication and possession, Standlee was fined $75 by Judge H. A. Robinson.

Horace Sprague, 37, of Compton, Jim Miner, 26, of Los Angeles, and Ralph Miner, 29, also of Los Angeles, were arrested Sunday evening by Officer Riley and charged with drunkenness and possession. Sprague was charged with drunkenness and fined $25; Jim Miner was charged with possession and also fined $25. Ralph Miner, driver of the car was released.

Carl Sherrod, 41, of Brea, was arrested Sunday evening on the streets of La Habra and charged with violating Ordinance No. 13 of the city, was fined $10.

FORESTER ISSUES WARNING ON FIRE HAZARDS; ASKS COOPERATION OF AUTOISTS

State Forester Joe Scherman has issued his annual warning to motorists and campers and asked for their cooperation in preventing fores fires. Particular care is requested this summer, Scherman said, as there has been very little rain since January and the forest is very dry.

Motorists are reminded that smoking is prohibited in all national forests and Orange county has an ordinance prohibiting smoking in the mountain area. Signs have been posted and men already are on duty enforcing the national forest regulations.

Smoking is permitted at all camp grounds and places of habitation, Scherman said. Camp fire permits are required and fires can be built only at public camp grounds and certain other places designated by the forester.

As additional precaution Scherman said, cabin owners are requested to keep a space cleared for 30 feet around their cabins as a firebreak protection both to the cabins and the forest. The same clearance is required around apiaries.

Burning permits will be required from the ranger when ground is cleared.

Scherman said in requesting the cooperation of motorists and vacationists that burned over land supports no one, offers no employment, builds no homes, feeds no wild game and provides no recreation in addition to the fact that it decreases the water shed and causes erosion.

Picnic Held By Members of Club

GARDEN GROVE, June 16. — Members of the Tuesday Afternoon club enjoyed a picnic at Anaheim park Tuesday, with Mrs. J. W. Harpster, Mrs. A. F. Mills and Miss Ethel Archer as hostesses.

Mrs. J. R. Skewis presided at a short business session. This was the last meeting of the year although several picnics are being planned for members and their families this summer. Mrs. A. F. Mills, chairman, distributed programs for next year. Mrs. Skewis read an original poem containing the names of the different books reviewed during the past year and on behalf of the club, presented Mrs. Imogene Klatt, of Santa Ana, with a gift. Mrs. Klatt had given the book reviews at the various meetings. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a social way.

Those present were Mesdames Imogene Klatt, of Santa Ana; A. M. Fay, of Anaheim; J. O. Arkley, E. M. Dozier, J. A. Knapp, W. E. Hennion, S. R. Fitz, Charles Simpson, J. A. Williams, J. R. Skewis, L. W. Schauer, W. J. Newsom, Harry Meyer, E. A. Wakeham, J. W. Harpster, A. F. Mills and Miss Ethel Archer.

PASTOR URGES HEAVY VOTE BY DRY CITIZENS

LA HABRA, June 16.—The General Aid society of the La Habra Methodist church held its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held at the C. G. Schuepbahc home in the large lath house where ferns and rare potted plants with baskets of mixed summer flowers formed the decorative theme.

The Rev. E. Dow Hoffman, of Fullerton, was the speaker of the afternoon following the devotionals led by Miss Winifred Sutton. He spoke of the campaign of liquor forces and told of the years of prohibition when "wet" papers were paid for editorials they printed, which were sent to them by the brewing interests. In speaking of the revenue claimed to be received from the sale of beer, he said that already California had spent 60 times the amount of liquor that had come back in revenue.

"Many people feel that the churches should not interfere with the question but Christ went about doing good and so the churches who follow Him should do good and fight for prohibition," the speaker said. "When we are told that we need the sale of beer to help balance the national budget, we have only to look at England, France and Germany, who have retained their liquor and we see that they have not been able to balance their budgets as well as we who have had a dry nation."

In the coming elections the Rev. Mr. Hoffman stated that in his opinion the question would not be decided by the wet votes, but by failure of dry voters to go to the polls, and he urged that everyone hel pin getting out the vote.

BLOCK NUMBERS ARE ADDED TO STREET SIGNS

New street markings on curbs at intersections are being painted by employes of the city street department as a further means of helping strangers and residents seeking house numbers.

In addition to the customary street name and direction, the number of the block is being added at intersections. J. L. McBride, street superintendent, who authorized the innovation in curb marking, pointed out that by the new arrangement, it is possible to determine locations by one look at the curb, instead of having to read numbers on houses.

Two painters in the department are doing the work as rapidly as possible, although they have covered less than half of the city. Because of the fallen debris and building activities following the earthquake, a great number of traffic lane markers in the business district are being renewed and work on the curbing marking is delayed.

LIONS HIDING HERE; TO REWARD FINDERS

Hundreds of Red Lions have been released in California and tomorrow the public is asked to join the biggest lion hunt in the wild and wooly west.

"We are turning loose a flock of red lions," M. W. Thome, branch manager of the Gilmore Oil company, said today, "and they are hiding in the shrubbery, back of trees, over doors and on porches all over town. They are friendly lions, because the finder of one of these red lions will be entitled to five gallons of the new Fortified Gilmore Red Lion gasoline, which will be introduced tomorrow.

"Attached to each red lion is a card for the give gallons of Red Lion gasoline at the nearest Gilmore dealer. Both the lion and the card must be presented in order to obtain the gasoline free."

Anaheim Citizens Sponsor Series Of Discussion Meets

Dr. George A. Warmer, minister of the Santa Ana First Methodist church, will be the speaker at the first of a series of meetings in the Anaheim city park Sunday, June 18, at 2:30 p. m., it was announced today.

The Progressive Citizen's committee of Anaheim is sponsoring a series of meetings to discuss problems of the day. Speakers of varying viewpoints will be presented.

JAYCEES FACE SHORTAGE FOR NEXT BIENNIUM

Faced with the possibility of having to make good an anticipated state fund deficit of $85,240 for the junior college during the next biennium the Santa Ana board of education probably will take no action on the matter until after the July session of the state legislature, according to Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson.

The local school board is planning to await action by the legislature on assembly bill 2345 known as the junior college deficiency bill which provides for the state appropriating from the general fund the difference between the apportionment for this year and the amount provided for by law. Should the legislature fail to adopt this measure it will be necessary for the district to cut expenses that much or arrange to raise the additional amount.

The situation has arisen from a serious slump in the royalties received from the state mineral lands by which the state's apportionment to the districts is financed, it is reported from Sacramento. The law provides that $100 per pupil in average attendance at the colleges shall be paid by the state but the royalties have fallen off to such extent that Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, estimates the state will pay only $89.21 per pupil this year and $16.53 per pupil next year.

Under Kersey's estimation of the amounts that will have to be raised to meet the deficiency, either through passage of assembly bill 2345, increase in the tax rate, or by charging tuition, Santa Ana will have to arrange to meet a shortage of $85,240 and Fullerton $72,187.

BOYS PAY WAY TO CAMP WITH FOOD STUFFS

Immediate and interested response has resulted from the new and novel plan placed in operation this year by the Orange County Boy Scout Council to provide an opportunity for every boy in the county more than 11 years of age to attend camping sessions at Camp Rokili, Boy Scout camp in the San Bernardino mountains.

Boys who wish to attend camp, which opens for the summer season on June 21, regardless of whether or not they are Boy Scouts, can spend a week in the open merely by paying their way with groceries or any foodstuffs that can be used at camp.

One boy has arranged already to pay his way for a week at camp by furnishing six rabbits; another will supply some chickens and eggs. The most unique case is one where a boy and his mother arranged to bake home-made bread for a week's supply at camp in exchange for a week at camp.

Scout Executive Harrison E. White today emphasized the fact that a boy does not have to be a Boy Scout in order to attend camp this year.

Any boys who wish to go to camp can secure application blanks at headquarters, 715 North Sycamore street, Santa Ana. Applications must be in by next Tuesday. The first group will leave from headquarters at 7:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning in special busses.

Santa Ana Artists Are Praised For Work On Sonata

Miss Walton and Mr. Gustlin have built an attractive program around the new Cadman Sonata in G Major for violin and piano which they are making available next season to California clubs, and which they presented yesterday.

Charles Wakefield Cadman commented appreciatively on the artistic abilities of Miss Walton and Mr. Gustlin. He declared, "I have been thrilled and charmed at their reading of my new Sonata in G which they presented to a very critical audience. It was by far the best interpretation of the work I have yet heard. Their playing was dynamic, forceful, colorful and most stimulating."

College Young People Climax Year With Banquet

Serving as a fitting climax to a successful year at Santa Ana junior college, the annual banquet was held last night at Santa Ana Country club.

The Century of Progress exposition inspired decorations and program. Models of several of the fair buildings were on the tables, worked out in silver and black, and place cards, program and talks adhered to the theme. Miner Whitford, new president, and Duncan Harnois, outgoing president and toastmaster, were responsible for the arrangements.

Interspersed with dinner courses were songs by Miss Jean Baldwin and violin numbers by Miss Emmalena Richards. Miss Baldwin was accompanied by Duncan Harnois, and Miss Richards by Miss Carolyn Mueller.

President D. K. Hammond and Dean McKee Fisk gave the two addresses of the evening. President Hammond spoke on "Century of Progress of the Student," stressing the words, greatness, dignity, peace, taken from the concluding lines of the photoplay, Cavalcade." Dean Fisk devoted his remarks to 'Robot Students" and urged the college students to be more than mechanical people.

Phi Rho Pi awards for debating, given to students who brought the conference title to Santa Ane, were presented to Ted Meece, Miss Jean Rockwell, Robert Tannenbaum and Kenneth Stowell. Coach Bill Foote gave out letters to members of the championship tennis and golf teams, Coach Bill Cook gave the track letters, and Coach Clyde Cook presented the monograms in baseball. Announcement was made of the annual alumni reunion tonight in the "Y" hut on the campus.

Miner Whitford, new president, announced the names of the executive board for next year: Bill McDaniels, vice president; Le Ora Hatch, secretary; Ted Meece, treasurer; Katherine Bement, social; Walter Workman, forensics; Gene Thompson, Del Ano editor; James Torrens, El Don editor; Jack Havens, men's athletics, and Ruth Crowl, women's athletics.

Duncan Harnois, before turning over the gavel to Miner Whitford, presented a life pass to all athletic contests to Gene Hall, first semester president. The outgoing executive board was then introduced: James Goodfellow, Helen Bower, Gordon Cudworth, James Torrens, Evelyn Fairley, Miner Whitford, Florence Turner, George Farquhar and Gertrude Jentges.

Young People Travel To Yosemite For Honeymoon

A honeymoon in the Yosemite is being enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Hicks, whose marriage Monday night, June 12 took place in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church. The bride was Miss Ina Mae Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Gregg, and Mr. Hicks is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Hicks.

Banked with palms and greenery, and brightened with tall tapers and many flowers in pastel tints, the altar made an effective setting for the ceremony, read impressively by the Rev. Mr. Hicks.

At 8 o'clock, there was a short musical program, including a violin solo, "I Love You Truly," played by Everett Pearce. Miss Georgia Altnow accompanied him later playing Lohengrin's Wedding March as the processional. Orion Bebermeyer of Costa Mesa sang "God's Gift," words and music of which had been written by Mrs. C. D. Hicks. Mrs. Bebermeyer was his accompanist.

The bride was very lovely in her ivory satin gown of modish design, with a filmy veil held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. White sweet peas arranged in a shower bouquet were her flowers, and she wore crystals, the gift of the bridegroom.

Her sister, Miss Alta Gregg, as maid of honor, wore orchid georgette and carried a bouquet of mixed sweet peas. Her fiance, Carlton Rhinard, attended Mr. Hicks as best man. Ushers were Merrill Hocker, cousin of the groom, and Moody Schrock.

Completing the wedding party were Mrs. H. C. Hall, another sister of the bride, wearing green organdy and carrying pink sweet peas, and Mrs. Moody Schrock, in yellow organdy with orchid sweet peas. The little Misses Barbara Beth Gates, niece of the bride, and Beverly Weisgerber, were flower girls, wearing quaint, long ruffled frocks, one in pink and the other blue.

After congratulations had been offered the newlyweds, they left for Alhambra to be overnight guests in the home of the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Holford, departing the next day for Yosemite.

Mr. Hicks is employed at Joe's Grocery, and his bride has been doing secretarial work in the Alpha Beta offices. Both are graduates of Santa Ana high school, Mr. Hicks continuing his studies at Santa Ana junior college.

Sycamore Rebekahs

Election of officers and a surprise program interested members of Sycamore Rebekah lodge who attended a meeting held recently in I. O. O. F. hall. Mrs. Fanny Taylor, noble grand, presided.

Officers named were Mrs. Elizabeth Price, noble grand; Mary Paul, vice grand; Bess Stovall, recording secretary; Hazel Ryan, financial secretary; Elsie May Henry, treasurer; Florence Crawford, trustee. Installation will take place the first meeting in July.

Refreshments were served in the dining room under the direction of Mrs. Inez Baker and her committee. Verbena and snapdragons were used in decorating.

Guests were present from Torosa Rebekah lodge and from lodges in Westminster, Anaheim and Orange. Visitors included Mrs. Bomboy of Iowa and Mr. and Mrs. Nowlan of Oklahoma.

Miscellaneous Shower Is Compliment To Bride-Elect

Recent announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Helen Krone, niece of Mrs. Charles Heinrichs, 905 West Washington avenue, and Kermit McCoy of Orange, inspired a delightful party of the current week, when Miss Doris Corwin entertained in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cox, 806 North Ross street.

Rainbow hues were seen in the flowers decorating the home, an effect that was especially charming at the late refreshment hour. For at this time each table expressed some one of the hues not only in its centerpiece of sweet peas, but in the corsage bouquet at each guest's place. Ice cream, a variety of cake and coffee were served.

Events leading up to the refreshment hour included a court whist contest, in which Miss Corwin rewarded the winners, Mrs. Raymond Cota and Miss Hester Sanborn, with graceful flower vases. Presentation of the prizes seemed to be a signal for the arrival of a messenger. He bore a special consignment of packages for Miss Krone, who discovered that her friends had chosen all manner of miscellaneous gifts for her future home.

Miss Corwin was assisted throughout the evening by Mrs. Mary Cox, Mrs. A. N. Cox, and Mrs. Charles Heinrichs, while others sharing the party pleasures in addition to her honoree, Miss Krone, were the Misses Helen Mayes, Dorothy Grizzle, Nell Hinton, Dorothy Dunbar, Marjorie Krone, Doris Bolles, Hester Sanborn, Cecelia Boyston, Santa Ana; Mrs. Kenneth McCoy of Orange, and Mrs. Raymond Cota of Fullerton.

GIRL SCOUTS

Mrs. J. D. Watkins' cottage at Balboa Beach was opened to Girl Scouts of Mrs. R. C. Harris' Troop No. 2 recently for an all-day party.

Santa Ana Woman's club, sponsor of the troop, presented a flag standard to Ahwen Hataji patrol, members of which were winners in a roller skating relay. Hockey, swimming and other sports were enjoyed. Luncheon was prepared over a campfire.

Others in the group were Mrs. Raymond Crum, Mrs. Potts, Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, Mrs. E. F. Bruning, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Johanne Ellers, Mrs. W. M. Wells and Rose Ann Taylor.

Daughters of Veterans

Sarah A. Rounds tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, completed arrangements for activities of this month at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in Pythian hall, with Mrs. Rowena Grout presiding.

Announcement was made of a covered-dish luncheon to be held tomorrow at noon in the home of Mrs. E. J. Parker, Yorba street, Tustin. For transportation, members are to telephone Mrs. Minnie McClure, 2971. Plans were made for a father and daughter banquet to be held June 27 and for a food sale to take place June 24.

It was announced that the Southern California Federation, Daughters of Union Veterans will meet June 29 at Patriotic hall, Pasadena.

During the business session, it was reported that 75 bouquets had been distributed; 25 calls made; $53.50 expended for relief work.

Dinner Hosts Provide Enjoyable Musicale For Their Guests

Adding another to the list of delightful affairs with which they have enlivened the early summer, Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Van Antwerp were hosts Wednesday night at a formal dinner in their home, 2453 Riverside Drive, complimenting especially, Dr. and Mrs. Shean Magan of Covina.

The entire home was brilliant with gladioluses massed in stately array, although the dining room was given over to roses and delphinium in an exquisite color combination of pink and deep blue. The large round table presented a charming scene with its arrangement of flowers and tapers, while flower basket cards at each place was accompanied by tiny candelabra to illumine the name written thereon.

Asked to share with Mr. and Mrs. Van Antwerp their compliment to Dr. and Mrs. Magan, were Dr. and Mrs. Wellesley Magan and Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller, of Covina; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright of Azusa; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ward of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Colanchick of Oxnard; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Storey of Balboa; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haan and Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Winckler, Santa Ana.

For the after-dinner entertainment of their guests, the hosts introduced the Santa Ana Trio, Miss Ruth Armstrong, pianist; Miss Georgia Bell Walton, violinist, and Edward H. Burns, 'cellist. Their program, so keenly enjoyed by the guests, included such selections as "Serenade di Milenka" by Block; the Prelude to Act 4 of the Massenet opera, "Heriodiade; Cyril Scott's "Cornish Folk Dance"; "Liebestraume" by Liszt, and many others, including by request, Miss Armstrong's own arrangement of "Songs of the Islands," typically Hawaiian. Both Miss Walton and Mr. Burns played solo groups, Miss Walton offering such numbers as the Rachmaninoff "Serenade", and Mr. Burns playing among several, "Elegie" by Massenet.

Y. W. C. A. Directors Tell Summer Schedule

The Y. W. C. A. board of directors held its final pre-vacation meeting Monday night, at which time Mrs. E. L. Morris and Miss Nancy Elder gave reports of the Community conference attended at Asilomar last month. Reports also were heard of the work of the program year just being completed. A thousand different individuals have been reached by the Y. W. C. A. this past nine months in the various club, recreational and service activities.

With the month of June club and membership programs will be discontinued until the first of September. Association rooms will be kept open as usual every day during July and August; the bi-weekly party for older young people will continue with Miss Mabel Larrick and Mrs. John Bichan as sponsors; the bi-weekly meeting on Wednesdays of the "Mother's Nite Out" group will continue; and Mrs. Emily Leue and Miss Mary Helen Bell will be in charge of swimming for adults and girls at the Y. M. C. A. every Friday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Representatives from the High School Girl Reserve club and from the Wrycende Maegdenu club will attend the respective Girl Reserve and Business Girls' summer conferences at Asilomar. Miss Robinson, Girl Reserve secretary, will go with the Orange County Girl Reserves to the summer camps. Twenty-four girls already are registered to go to Camp Torqua, June 27 for one week, and an equal number is expected to go from Santa Ana to Camp Osceola July 24 to 31. Camp Emma Otis, in the hills above Modjeska's home, also is available to all business girls wishing to arrange week-end camping trips or vacation outings there.

Bridge Club Showers Hostess With Gifts

Bidden to the home of Miss Madalon Flagg, 202 East Chestnut avenue, for an evening party, members of the Idylawhyle Bridge club took this opportunity to shower gifts upon their hostess, whose marriage to Lloyd Kneeland is to be an event of this month.

The club group had chosen gifts of miscellaneous nature for Miss Flagg, surprising her with the presentation.

Bridge games were enjoyed with the result that Mrs. Ida McCarty scored high and Miss Theola Ridgway, low.

The hostess used flowers in decorating for the refreshment hour with which the affair was concluded.

Present were Miss Theola Ridgway and Mesdames Nelson Dierker, Leslie D. Faulkner, Rudolph Hoehn, Naomi Jones, F. H. Kieslick, W. K. McCarty, Leona Stipp, J. E. Gibson, O. A. Swearingen, L. F. Erickson, and the hostess, Miss Flagg.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Having won distinction for Calumpit U. S. W. V. at the national convention held in Stockton, where she was elected junior vice president, Mrs. Mary Glaze was accorded honors at the recent meeting of the local organization, held at 615 East Washington avenue. She was presented with flowers from the auxiliary, and with a gift from Past Presidents' club, of which she is a member.

On exhibit was the cup won by the drill team at the Stockton conclave, as well as credentials showing that the group had been made department drill team No. 4 of California.

Mrs. Katherine Ragan, president, was in charge of the meeting. It was announced that the Elks had invited the auxiliary to attend Flag day exercises on June 14 at 8 p. m. in the Municipal Bowl; that the Sewing Circle will meet Wednesday, June 14, at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Oscar Kurtz, 640 North Ross street.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth Moberly was elected delegate to the national convention to be held in Los Angeles in August. Mrs. Ragan was named alternate.

Mrs. Hazel Hall, first delegate to the convention in Stockton, gave a report.

Benefit Dinner

Entertaining with a dinner party and program Tuesday evening at 615 East Washington avenue, members of Calumpit Camp and Auxiliary, U. S. W. V. were successful nosts at an affair for the benefit of the drum corps and drill team's convention traveling fund.

The program in its entirety was presented by the Misses Gelene, Louise and Betty Blossom Goble of this city and Junior Cavenaugh and F. R. Chapman of Fullerton.

Barn Dance Succeeds Merriment Of Box Supper

Seeking the simple pleasures of the bucolic life, members of Sigma Tau Psi sorority and their friends shared a merry party Tuesday night, when a barn on the Anaheim-Olive highway, served as setting for their rural gaiety.

Each sorority member had packed a supper box with dainties for two and these were sold to the highest bidders in approxed box social fashion. When all had been distributed, each purchaser sought the owner of his box for the enjoyment of the feast. Dancing followed to the tinkling rhythms of a phonograph, and several lively old-time games were introduced as special fun features.

As midnight drew near the merrymakers returned to Santa Ana and sought the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hoyle where a late supper was served.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle, the Misses Mary Jane Sturgeon, Alice Hanson, Betty Barkman, Betty Rowland, Jean Rowland, Carol House, Alyce Majors, Mary Emil Majors, Mary Read, Lucy Holmes, Eloise Wright, Jean Peacock, Lucille Conaway, Agneta Wheeler, Messrs Spencer Richardson and Melvin Higbee, Pasadena; Eric Borchert and Hal Dunham, Anaheim; Melvin Goodchild, La Habra; Frank Hillegas, Charles Oxarart, David Hill, Bob Smith, "Dutch" Smetzer, Bob Gardner, Howard Hales, Bob Reid and Bill Hewitt.

Mayflower Club Plans Summer Picnics

During a Mayflower club meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. A. Marymee, 519 Linwood avenue, where Mrs. Laura Sanborn was co-hostess, plans were made for picnics to be held this month and in July.

The June affair is to take place Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at Irvine park, with husbands and families of members attending as guests. The date of the July party is to be announced later. The next business session will be held in August.

Installation of the new secretary-treasurer, Mrs. S. F. Bernier, and press correspondent, Mrs. V. C. Shidler, took place, with Mrs. A. C. Wiebe, retiring president, in charge. Mrs. Edward Cochems and Mrs. Bertha Helmer, newly-elected president and vice president, were unable to be present for the installation.

Cards and sewing occupied the group durnig the remainder of the afternoon, at the close of which refreshments were served.

Present were Mesdames P. T. Isherwood, William R Ford, Robert E. Smith, Ida Wiebe, William Lawrence, M. R. Kellogg, S. F. Bernier, Leona Gowdy, V. C. Shidler and little daughter, Jacqueline.

Student Recital

Carolyn Haughton

In presenting a group of piano pupils, Miss Carolyn Haughton combined the recital with a charming tea staged Sunday afternoon in the Y. W. clubrooms. She was assisted in greeting the guests by Mesdames Arthur May, George Watson, C. T. Palmer, G. W. Purkey, James Nuckolls and F. C. Rowland, and a group of junior co-hostesses, the Misses Geraldine Gilbert, Irma Jean May and Sallie Watson.

Each hostess was presented with a beautiful corsage bouquet, as were the young people appearing on the program, the clusters, like the clubroom decorations, being the work of Haid's Flower shop.

The program was distinguished by a technique and musical understanding on the part of the individual musicians, that made it a memorable affair for the large audience gathered to enjoy it. It opened with a chorus by the girls of the B Sharp Music club, directed by Miss Clara Spelman, continuing with piano solos representing such composers as Rachmaninoff, Schumann, Massanet, Grieg, Chopin, Cyril Scott, etc.

Miss Beulah Purkey's interpretation of the Rachmaninoff Prelude in C sharp minor, was the second number, and her fine touch was apparent later on the program in two Chopin Etudes and "Valse Caprice," by Cyril Scott. Carol Rogers, Margaret Aubrey, Helen Newbold and Donald Watson appeared on the first part of the afternoon, in Schumann, Grieg and Massanet compositions. Harriet Short played Staub's "Sois Bois" and Scott's "Dance Negre," while adding to the Cyril Scott group was Ione Hooven in "Song of the East."

Other modernists represented were Alter, whose "Manhattan Serenade" was played by Virginia Adams; Morkrejs, with "Valse in C Minor," played by Barbara Rowland; Kowalski's "Salut a Pesth," played by Lois Newbold; Debussy's "Golliwog's Cake Walk," played by Virginia Adams.

Paul Allen, guest artist, charmed with his clear sweet tenor voice in song groups interspersed with the piano numbers. Lucille Lambert, also a guest artist, did some ballet work that was rarely graceful and charming to see. Miss Erma Baxter was accompanist for the vocalist and the dancer.

Chopin numbers were interpreted by Carol Rogers, Cornelia Palmer, Opal Moore and Lois Newbold. Donald Watson played Grieg's "March of the Dwarfs;" Carol Rogers chose "Impromptu," by Reinhold; Frances Walton, "Two Larks," by Leschetizky, and Betty Woodward brought the musical interval to a close with a Brahms Rhapsody.

Holly Lash Visel

Bringing to a conclusion a series of three interesting recitals, Holly Lash Visel presented advanced adult pupils in a delightful program of music and drama late last week in Ebell auditorium.

This final event attracted a large audience that required practically every seat in the auditorium. It was an attentive audience as well, and a highly appreciative one, greeting each number with warm applause. The sage was made charming with flowers, and each member of the entertainment group was remembered with clusters of blossoms. Flower decorations had been executed by the Art Florists.

Ruth Swanson Lykke opened the program with charming Chinese songs, followed by a scene from "Romeo and Juliet," by Vivian Rogers and Mabel Larrick; violin solo by Peggy Warburton; "At the Cloister Gate," by Hazel Storry and Gertrude Woodruff; an original monologue by June Arnold; scene from "Lady Windermere's Fan," by June Arnold, Neva Gerdes and Velma Vinzant, and songs by Robert Dozier.

The program closed with a novel application of the spoken verse choir idea, gaining such high favor through the east. In this, six advanced expression students, Emma Williams, Vivian Rogers, Velma Vinzant, June Arnold, Neva Gerdes and Jeanette Bodman, gave Noyes' "The Highwayman," in unison, their voices blending into one flexible instrument. Off stage voices were Mrs. Bessie Nalle, Mrs. Visel, Mary Nalle and Florine Pollock.

Accompanists for the evening were Ruth Armstrong, Luella McGaffey, Margaret Day Rogers and Neva Gerdes. Tom Gimberling assisted as stage manager, while several business houses of the city cooperated in stage decorations, flowers and furniture. The clever programs were the handiwork of Miss Emma Williams.

An informal reception in the clubhouse foyer followed the recital, and later in the evening all those appearing on the program with a few close friends repaired to Mrs. Visel's home, 220 Cypress street, for an enjoyable studio party.

Dorothy Hail Pitman

In this season of studio recitals, one of the most enjoyable was that of Dorothy Hail Pitman's pupils, held Monday evening in the Y. W. clubrooms, midst a charming floral setting designed by the Mission Flower shop.

Opening with a violin duet by Leo and Lloyd Robbins, with Miss Gelene Goble as accompanist, the first half of the program featured readings. These were varied and were cleverly given by the young people, each announcing title and author in turn. They were Betty Flaherty, Jimmie Heim, Patricia Ey, Eugenie Bond, Elden Winters, Eleanor Dietrich, Ramona Ey, Richard Connor and Dorothy Flaherty.

The second part of the program also opened with a violin duet by the two gifted young brothers, Leo and Lloyd Robbins, pupils of Elwood Bear. Succeeding numbers were "Mud Pies," a sketch by Eleanor Dietrich and Eugenia Bond; "Japanese Love Song," by Patricia Ey; "The Patchwork Quilt," by Beth Barnes; oration, "The American Man," by Elden Winters; "The Little Quaker Sinner," by Eugenia Bond; "The Dance," by Eleanor Dietrich, and Joyce Kilmer's "Trees," played and sung by Miss Gelene Goble as it was pantomimed in graceful fashion by Eugenia Bond, Ramona Ey, Eleanor Dietrich, Patricia Ey and Beth Barnes.

Royal Neighbors

The close of a membership contest between Long Beach and Santa Ana Royal Neighbor camps was marked with initiation ceremonies at the meeting of Santa Ana Royal Neighbors in M. W. A. hall Monday evening. Initiated were Harry Nelson, Jerome Stephenson, Mrs. Mary Martin, Mrs. Edith Baldwin, Osie J. Starns and Lawrence Harmon.

The lodge hall was decorated with gladioluses and ferns. The close of the contest finds the Santa Ana camp the only one in the district to write its quota of insurance. Oracle Pearl Laub reported a letter of commendation received from Mrs. Christiana Hammill, state supervising deputy.

Mrs. Clara Blackwell presented Mrs. Laub with a basket of flowers and a gold banded gavel inscribed with her name. Saturday was announced as the date of the annual picnic for the juvenile members in Anaheim City park. A potluck dinner will be served at noon, while the afternoon will be spent in the swimming pool by the youngsters. Plans were made to invite the Long Beach camp to be guests at the next regular meeting, when an entertainment will be given in their honor.

At the close of the business session members and guests were bidden to the dining room for refreshments. Hollyhocks were grouped about the room while the tables were gay with delphiniums and fern. Salad, wafers, youngberries and coffee were served. On the hostess committee were Mrs. Clara Blackwell, chairman; Grover Bacon, Mrs. Verna Rush, Mrs. Lillian Watson and Mrs. Ruth Lang. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Your own home made mayonnaise tastes FRESH because it is fresh

When you make your own mayonnaise you use an egg just out of the shell and choice Wesson Oil. Perhaps you use freshly squeezed lemon juice instead of vinegar. These fresh ingredients are whipped to a creamy smoothness and served while you know they are fresh... so your own home made mayonnaise always has that delicious "just made" taste . . . and there simply isn't anything to compare with it.

HERE'S THE NEW MIXER THAT WHIPS IT UP IN 1⅘ MINUTES!

PERFECT MAYONNAISE EVERY TIME!

It works with one hand while you pour with the other . . . whips up a perfect mayonnaise in 1⅘ minutes . . . the time required for the pint of Wesson Oil to pour out of the can. When the can is empty, six more strokes and your mayonnaise is finished. It can't fail.

Varsity

Of all the different teams that have been organized there have been outstanding girls. These girls have had the honor of being on the varsity. The high nine girls that have achieved this are: Jane King in basket ball; Hazel Schwarm in basket ball; Naomi Sands in volley ball; Jean Munro in basket ball and speedball; Stella Meador in volley ball, speedball and baseball; Thelma Marks in baseball; Helen Lowe in baseball; Maxine Clement in baseball; Lenore Castillo in volley ball and baseball, and Jean McBurney in baseball.

Poetry Club

At the final meeting of the Poetry club, held in the English office this week, members discussed the poems which have been turned in during the year. It was decided to extend invitation to those who have written good poems in the English classes. After the meeting punch and wafers were served by Mrs. Maurine Scott, advisor.

Student Government Picnic

The commissioners, safeties and home-room representatives had their annual picnic at Anaheim park on Friday, June 9. In the afternoon the students went swimming in the plunge and played ball. Later they had supper in the park.

Classes Entertain Teachers

Mrs. Weston's H-9 social science and business training classes entertained their teachers at a social hour in the home economics dining room on Tuesday afternoon, June 6.

Glee Club Picnic

The Boys' Glee club enjoyed a picnic at Corona Del Mar on Tuesday, June 6. In the afternoon the boys went in swimming and afterward enjoyed a picnic supper on the beach.

New Safety Committee

The safety committee for next year has been announced by Miss Mary Jane Steele. The committee is composed of Ed Fitzgerald, president; Bob Clark, Alez Zlaket, Bill Tibbs, David Wilde, Chester Clark, Leon Kaplan; Wesley Robb, Will Rudd, James Wilkins, Leonard Stafford, David Hunte, Lester Carden, Billy Hill, Fred James, Thompson McNeal, Richard Wright, Robert Horseman, Charles Valentine, Robert Lippincott, Tham Meyer, David Bingham, Barbara Gerrard, Dorothy Oleson, Nora Mae Bingle, Josephine Butler, Jessie Faires, Raphie Nugent, Stella Christ, Mary Jean Stever, Betty Mae Neff and Marguerite Pimental.

H9 Class Captains

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon
Cooked Vegetable Salad
Mineral oil mayonnaise
1 large tomato, sliced
10 stalks fresh asparagus
2 tablespoons green peas
2 tablespoons cubed cooked carrot
1 stuffed egg
1 square of Ry-Krisp, unbuttered
Clear tea, no sugar
Calory total, 310

* * *

This is a grand salad; serve it to the whole family for luncheon; the Ry-krisp, too, unless they prefer something that requires less time to eat.

* * *

Have quantities of all ingredients prepared and well chilled. Arrange them in separate heaps on lettuce hearts, pour over them a generous quantity of mayonnaise, set the two halves of eggs on the plate, and serve at once.

* * *

Perhaps you dislike the oily quality of mineral oil mayonnaise. I wonder if the curse might not be taken off it by working in just a little very thick buttermilk and lots of paprika.

* * *

Stuffed Eggs

Hard boil the required number (one for each salad). Peel, cut in half and mash the yolks, with a little mayonnaise and prepared mustard. Season very highly and refill the white parts, heaping up the yolk. Chill well before using.

* * *

If you wish to hurry up the loss of poundage, omit bread of any kind for your luncheon. This generous salad will satisfy appetite.

* * *

Lima Bean Roast

2 cups of cooked lima beans
1 cup finely diced raw potato
1 cup bean stock, or milk
1 medium onion, ground fine
3 slices bacon, diced and fried
1 small green pepper, minced
1-4 cup chopped parsley
Salt and pepper
Can of tomato soup

If you want to make this bean roast quickly, use canned limas; if you want it to have full flavor, cook fresh beans.

* * *

Dice and fry the bacon, scoop out the crisp bits and fry the onion and green pepper, very gently, until soft. Combine with the limas and raw potato.

By the way, you can save time and effort if you will just run the cup of potato through the food chopper after the onion and green pepper have gone through.

After the ingredients have all been mixed, put the roast in a shallow buttered casserole. Mix the cup of bean stalk, or milk, with the can of tomato soup and pour over the beans. Bake one hour in a moderate oven. If the roast seems dry before that time, add a very little hot water. It should be fairly juicy, y'know.

* * *

There are approximately 1350 calories in the lima bean roast, with portions for six.

I have suggested using milk in place of the bean stock for this reason: lima beans carry an incomplete protein; when combined with milk, this protein becomes a full one, particularly fine for growing children or underweights.

Saturday: Orange Bread, delicious for sandwiches or toast, or just "as is." ANN MEREDITH.

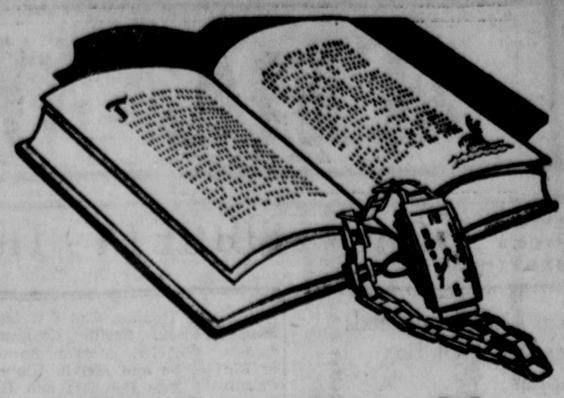

NEW MAYONNAISE MIXER ON MARKET

A new mayonnaise mixer that makes it possible to have fresh mayonnaise with a minimum of effort and trouble has just been put on the market.

Those who have tried it say it takes all the gamble and work out of mayonnaise making and whips up the smoothest, stiffest mayonnaise you ever saw in one and one-half minutes.

It is a brand-new device that permits pouring the oil with one hand and whipping with the other. The basin top of the mixer is made so that the oil cannot flow in too rapidly.

It is made by the Wesson Oil people and is now on sale at local grocery stores.

Have you ever met a grouch..age 5?

When you're HEALTHY you're HAPPY

Tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid regularity. ALL-BRAN is also twice as rich in iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much better than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Vitally different!

HAVE YOU ever wondered what the smiles of youth are made of? We know! Proteins, for one thing. Carbohydrates, minerals, and vitamins. Vital food elements—the very things you find in such abundance in that vitally different food, Shredded Wheat. Nature stores whole wheat with natural energy, and Shredded Wheat is all the wheat—nothing added, nothing taken away. Golden brown biscuits that tickle the palate! Ready-cooked, ready to eat with milk or cream, with fresh or preserved fruit. Try Shredded Wheat for ten days. You'll like it. Millions do!

When you see Niagara Falls on the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

BUSINESS CLUB TO HOLD DANCE ON JUNE 24TH

SAN CLEMENTE, June 16.—The San Clemente-San Juan Capistrano B. P. W. club held a pot luck dinner and business meeting at the home of Mrs. Terra McGowan in the Stowell apartments this week. Miss Betty Cohee assisted the hostess in serving the dinner. Mrs. Genevieve, of Laguna Beach, president, presided.

A report of the state convention at San Jose was given by the former president and delegate, Mary Bowen Percival. Margaret Nelson, Hazel Guilbert and Betty Cohee were appointed to suggest ways of reducing club expenses, particularly the annual dues.

The president appointed as the new program committee, Hazel Guilbert, Frances Underhill and Nell Fate. Miss Margaret Nelson was appointed as district chairman of transportation.

Miss Frances Underhill announced all plans complete for the annual dance June 24 at the Social club. Paul Kaufman's orchestra will furnish the music.

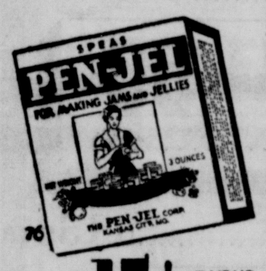

Mrs. Bottger and Mrs. George Monroe received birthday congratulations from the other members. In the discussion of plans of the members for the summer, it was learned that Margaret Nelson will sail Thursday for Europe, and on the same day Mabel Cooper will sail for China. Both will return to their teaching positions in San Juan Capistrano in September.

Mrs. Bowen, the former president, who is proprietor of the Buena Fe store, is moving her stock of merchandise to San Bernardino Friday.

Easy to make

Arrange Program For Playgrounds

LA HABRA, June 16.—Chairmen in charge of various activities at the supervised playground at the Washington grammar school this summer, met this week to complete their plans. Registration for the playground will be June 22 and 23 and the active work will start June 26.

Three new phases of work were added to the program already mapped out. Clinton Spotts, of La Habra, will conduct a pottery class; Homer C. Holzgrafe will teach manual training and Mrs. Frances Rich Smith will give lessons in block printing.

The work will be under the supervision of Superintendent of Schools E. R. Berry

Mesa League In Session Tonight

COSTA MESA, June 16.—A large attendance of Costa Mesa property owners and others is expected tonight when the Taxpayers' league meets in the grammar school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock to hear Assemblyman James B. Utt and R. D. Flaherty of the farm bureau. Flaherty has been asked to speak on the tax equalization program the farm bureau has been sponsoring. Utt will speak on legislation that has been passed.

Radio News

OLD DAYS IN SANTA ANA TO BE RECALLED

Among the interesting news items of "25 Years Ago Today" to be presented at 7:15 by Lutz and Company, tailors, will be that of a party given by J. H. Rankin for distinguished guests.

The broadcast also will include a 25-year-old news item telling of the refusal of the Santa Ana city council to accept a map from the city engineer because councilmen felt that the city might, some day, extend beyond Seventeenth street.

Personal mention of children who are well-known Santa Ana citizens today, mention of an ordinance passed by the City of Anaheim closing saloons, the graduating class of Pomona college, all will be included in the program.

One of the entertaining items to be mentioned will be the advertisement of the Elite theater announcing "splendid moving pictures, entertaining music and dissolving views."

The musical portion of the program will offer further comparisons of the music today with that of yesterday.

WESTERN SONGS TO BE KREG FEATURE

Western songs will be featured tonight at 7 o'clock on the program to be presented by the Western Oil and Refining company over radio KREG. The program will feature the famous Happy Chappies.

One of the features of the program and of particular interest to all boys and girls is the information as to how they may secure complete Indian outfits. This announcement will be made but once during the broadcast and boys and girls are advised to be tuned in promptly at 7 o'clock.

Among the songs to be featured on this program are "When the Bloom is on the Sage" and "Make Your Mind Up to Wind Up in Sunny Southern California."

KREG NOTES

J. F. Burke will be the speaker tonight on the program sponsored by the Santa Ana Dry association. Programs sponsored by this group are urging voters of Santa Ana to retain their independence and vote against legalizing the sale of beer in this city at the special election on June 27.

—o—

Another thrilling drama is promised for tonight at 7:45 under the title of "Destruction". These dramas, broadcast weekly are well-cast and provide many minutes of suspense, thrills and fast-moving action.

—o—

Ray De O'Fan will be on the air at 7:35 for another discussion of certain radio celebrities during which he will "expose" salaries, histories and other pertinent information. He will also extend his offer to those who would like pictures of "Chandu, the Magician."

—o—

Announcement of a lucrative menu contest will be made tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock during her weekly talk to housewives. This contest will offer 100 weekly in prizes.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

Variety will be the keynote of the program in which Grace Moore, operatic soprano, will sing the current Harlem blues success, "Stormy Weather," in her broadcast, 6 to 6:30 tonight over KHJ. As a contrast she will sing the aria, "Vissi d'Arte" from "Tosca," and then conclude with Victor Herbert's romantic "Gypsy Love Song."

* * *

Senator Homer T. Bone of the state of Washington will be heard over an NBC network including KFSD at 7:15 tonight in a discussion of "Ways Out of the Depression."

* * *

The story of Michelangelo's sculpture of the famous statue of Moses, will comprise the theme behind the current "Tapestries of Life" program, 8:30 to 9 tonight over KHJ.

* * *

Having just completed a series of dramatizations based on the lives of celebrated military aviators, "Conquerors of the Sky" at 7:30 tonight over KHJ begins a series of episodes on the subject of commercial aviation. The Wright brothers, fathers of modern aviation, will supply the background for the first episode.

* * *

Raymond Paige, whose "late hour" concerts have proven a welcome innovation, is making it an extra special treat, when he presents the cream of the highlights of the past several "California Melodies" program, 11 o'clock to midnight, tonight over KHJ.

SATURDAY

Samuel S. Wyer, consulting engineer of Columbus, O., speaking as guest on the American Taxpayers League program, will talk on "Our Dole Minded Thinking" during a broadcast at 3 p.m. tomorrow over an NBC network including KFSD.

McKinley

Closing a successful year under the leadership of Mrs. John J. Mills, who will continue in the office of president for the new year, McKinley P.-T. A. met recently in the school kindergarten room. L. 'L. Beeman was the speaker, talking on "The White House Conference."

Special guests were Mrs. Harry Drown, president of Woodrow Wilson P.-T. A., and a group of her members, Mrs. Adkinson, Mrs. George Calhoun and Mrs. C. Eggleston.

The program included Spanish dances by fifth and sixth-grade girls of McKinley school; songs, "Come to the Fair," and "The Invitation," by the Willard Girls' Glee Club and devotionals by Mrs. Mary Stewart.

On behalf of the retiring board, new officers were presented with corsage bouquets, Mrs. F. H. Heine and Mrs. Flaherty making the presentations. Mrs. Mills gave her cabinet similar bouquets. Miss Mary Andrews, principal, was the recipient of a handsome gift from the group, and Mrs. Mills of a past president's pin.

During the business session, Mrs. Theodore Alumbaugh and Mrs. Floyd Mitchell were appointed publicity and program chairman.

A HOME BUILDER'S PARADISE

Never in the life of this generation, or perhaps in any generation, have so many fine and varied materials been available to the new home builder at so moderate cost and never has skilled and efficient craftsmanship been so available. Today is indeed a paradise for home builders, and the family that has always wanted to own its home or rebuild its old one to keep it young, should take advantage of these splendid opportunities and plant a garden of its own around a home of its own. Planning and financing can be arranged. We build anywhere. Select your choice home site along Flower, Heliotrope Drive north or south of Nineteenth street.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Congress has adjourned. In the last few hours of its session, some members of it rebelled against the President's attitude on the pensions and disability allowances for ex-service men, but finally, by a strict party vote, sustained the President and Congress adjourned.

It is impossible at this stage to evaluate the work of this special session of Congress. The condition which prevailed in this country at the time the President called Congress together, the terrible situation, industrially economically and psychologically, is well known.

The most important legislation that has ever been enacted in our country in the same length of time, has been enacted during this brief period. It has touched every part of our social, economic and business life.

There has been an economy act, under which the President was given power to reduce veterans' compensation and government salaries, at a saving of a half billion dollars, and the administration estimates those made, and those to come, will be a billion.

In currency, the nation was taken off the gold standard, and the President empowered to inflate the currency through market operations, the issuance of "greenbacks" and reducing the content of the dollar. Congress has voted, during the past period, $500,000,000 for direct relief, authorized three billion, three hundred million dollars for a public works program, and provided the means for reducing working hours.

In agriculture, a two billion dollar bond issue for the refinancing of farm mortgages was voted, and methods of raising prices by a process measure for certain agricultural products has been agreed upon.

In the Farm, Railroad and Industrial Control bill, anti-trust laws have been set aside. Under government supervision there has been created a Tennessee Valley Authority, which provides for government ownership of Muscle Shoals.

There has been a divorcement of security affiliates of banks under government supervision; a stricter regulation of national banks, tending to prevent speculation, to the detriment of credit; a bill which is directed toward a unified national banking system, and a guarantee of limited deposits.

In respect to foreign affairs, the resolution for adherence to the World Court never was reported from committee, and the question of war debts remains unsettled.

As to what will be the outcome, the future alone can tell. Various rumors are afloat as to whether the President will use the power given him, and in what direction. While it was given out that there was to be a reduction in the navy, which met a very fine response throughout the country, yet this was changed to the extent that a portion of the $3,300,000,000 of public works can be used for a greater navy.

There are some things that cause one to question; there are some things which are disappointing, but on the whole there is no question but that the present effect has been very helpful upon business and finance. And certainly the unemployed have not only been helped, but they have a sense that the national administration is as much, if not more, interested in them than in any other group. They need such interest.

We note that some financiers are beginning to criticize the government, and the Cleveland Trust company in its late report declares that we ought to be saved from our saviors. Yes, this is the way it will begin. There may come the time when conservative thinking will be helpful, and some brakes may need to be put on. But we think some of the exposures have brought out, in bold relief, certain individuals in this country, and if we are going to be saved from our saviors, we are not going to see a wrecking crew do it.

Running a matrimonial agency is just a sort of male order business.

FOREIGN HOLDERS OF U. S. BONDS

There is much criticism on the part of foreign holders of United States government bonds because the President has forbidden the payment of interest in gold. It is regarded as a violation of contract, inasmuch as there is a definite agreement that these coupons are to be paid in gold.

The charge is well founded. But in the present situation it is a condition and not a theory that confronts the President. The President has forbidden the export of gold from the country for good and sufficient reasons. Should gold be shipped abroad to meet interest on government bonds what would hinder the flight of American dollars or bonds to other lands? Since we are not on the gold standard now, it would be an easy matter to ship government bonds abroad and then collect the interest as it came due in gold. In this way, the President's proclamation forbidding the export of gold, and thus protect our monetary standard and our credit, would be completely nullified.

According to what is known as Gresham's law, that cheap money always drives out dear money, it would be only a matter of time when our credit abroad would be entirely destroyed. It is to protect that credit that the President has ordered that all gold should be retained in the country until such time as an international agreement can be arrived at.

THE SENATE INQUIRY INTO RACKETEERING

A committee of the Senate has been authorized to investigate the racketeering that is going on all over the country. There is very little to be expected from this inquiry with an appropriation of ten thousand dollars, although it may mark only a beginning.

The racket has become a disgrace to American civilization. In most of our large cities no legitimate business is safe from the depredations of the parasites who are preying upon it. But the racket goes much further. It strikes at personal security. Only last week a man hailed a taxi in Chicago to take him from the Century of Progress Fair to his hotel. After he had ridden a few hundred yards two men hailed the taxi driver, got in, levelled a gun at the lone man, took all his money and threw him out of the taxi.

There is little doubt but that the taxi driver was in collusion with the robbers, for it is occurring again and again. But how to prove it against the driver is another question. The racket takes all sorts of forms. Unless something can be done to stop it, we may well fear for the future of orderly government.

BUSINESS STILL RISES

For the eleventh successive week the business index of the New York Times has gone steadily upward. It reached its lowest point the week ending March 18, when it stood at 60, 40 below normal. The week ending June 3 it stood at 83.5, a gain of better than 23 points. The last week marked a better than four-point rise in the index.

This is most encouraging. There are those who are still doubting. But the best informed statisticians and economists believe it to be a perfectly normal rise, and look for no recession. After more than three and a half years of discouraging depression, we believe we have come to a new day for business. Retail sales in all cities are increasing greatly. From every section of the country come reports of more employment and rising wage scales. The banking system is rapidly clearing up. With a rapidly growing confidence, and some agreements by the delegates at the International Economic Congress being held in London, there is every reason to believe that the world will become a better place for us all.

Diplomats For Parents

Christian Science Monitor

You may perhaps gets a diploma in Polk County, Tennessee, without studying the regular textbooks—that is, if you are a parent. But that doesn't mean you won't have earned it. For the parents who received diplomas at the graduation exercises of Poly County High school the other day had graduated all their children from that institution. The diplomas were in recognition of this fact.

These parents, then, will have something besides the quiet sense of having done well by their children to reward their endeavors. And it is good that they should have. Not that parents appear to need much more than the evidence of their children's well-being and progress to repay their efforts, but that it is time to certify in public that education depends upon much besides the teachers' ability to impart, the students' ability to receive, and the accuracy of textbooks.

Behind these parents' diplomas, for instance stand records of many a difficult job tackled by them in the meetings of the Family Every Member Success Organizations, which have been set up to aid discussion of family finance, student problems, success, character, reputation and so forth. This is the part of the story that is known. But what of the many chapters that will not be known outside the family circle? These, too, are written in the memories of the children and parents who have pushed shoulder to shoulder toward a common goal, though it is doubtful they could be written on an ordinary-sized diploma.

It would be interesting to see the parchments handed to parents at the Polk County High school graduation. Many a parent, and many a person not yet a parent, would like to see how the recognition of their achievement is worded. But all may be sure that if love, and sacrifice, and patience, and forgiveness, and joy are not emblazoned clearly upon it, these are still to be read between the lines.

Museum Crowds Show Important Increases

San Bernardino Sun

An art museum finds it had in the first five months of this year an attendance of 56,000 more visitors than the average for the same period during the past 10 years. Several reasons are suggested for this. One is that the museum offers not only its galleries with exhibitions changing monthly, but also a varied program of free lectures. People have leisure and little money. They turn gladly to such opportunities.

Another reason is to be found in one branch of the museum's work. It co-operates generously with the public schools of the community and has Saturday morning classes in drawing, painting, clay modeling and other art instruction which attract large numbers of eager boys and girls. This has been going on for some years. Most of the children who attend the classes become intelligent museum patrons. Their interest influences the rest of the family. Co-operation with the schools in any cultural work is a sure way to increase general popular interest in it.

Virtue Its Own Reward

San Francisco Chronicle

One of these days American millionaires—the few of them that are left—will get shrewd in more ways than that of making money. For years Americans have been victimized by foreign art fakers. Some time ago, a Paris newspaper estimated that nearly 15,000 spurious masterpieces had been sent to the United States and sold to unsuspecting collectors within a single year, and that the faking of Sevres chinaware, considered the royalty of pottery antiques, was by itself netting counterfeiters $10,000,000 a year. An examiner of antiques in the United States appraiser's store in Philadelphia recently declared that 50 per cent of the antiques which came to his attention were fakes.

There are means of testing antiques before investing huge sums and if we could shake off our inherent unwillingness to risk having our judgment proved faulty, or wouldn't try to make ourselves party to a shady deal of smuggling, we would not make suckers of ourselves.

The Sailor's Vacation

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A GLEAM OF HOPE

On learning that poets are commonly averse to work.

Content to be known as a doggerel bard
And a scribbler of frivolous rhyme,
I have never toiled at my trade very hard
Or allowed it to trench on my time.
But now I have hope of achieving a name;
Though still a malingering shirk,
I may some day arise to the level of fame,
For I'm told that all poets hate work.

Perc Shelley, George Byron and all of the boys
Who have scribbled their way to renown,
Were glad, when they'd sung of their sorrows and joys,
To lay the old penholder down.
While Homer, historians find,
Didn't pluck any tunes from his battered old lyre
Till the wolf was just one jump behind.

A line of afflatus could flash,
And turned out old off-color legends to sell—
Disposed of them strictly for cash.
Even big pompous Wordsworth would always decline
Or even put hand to the opening line,
Unless he knew what they would bring.

So, if poets by nature are hostile to work,
As the records appear to reveal,
If even the best of the guild like to shirk,
Except when in need of a meal,
While there's still bread and cheese on the shelf
Or maybe a flagon of modified wine,
Perhaps I'm a poet myself.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

Democracy has about hit bottom when the Senate can establish its courage by daring to question a big banker.

You don't add to a man's dignity by calling him Mister. Think of saying "Mr. Julius Caesar" as "Mr. George Washington."

Maybe the government can't run a power business successfully. When it has difficulties to overcome, it must depend on engineers instead of lobbyists.

DUELLING IS FORBIDDEN, BUT YOU CAN GET MAD AT A STRANGER AND HOLD 70 PER CENT OF THE PAVEMENT WITH SIMILAR RESULTS.

Nations, unfortunately, are like men. The only thing that makes them pacifists is the realization that they are easy to lick.

AMERICANISM: Permitting a thousand-dollar concern to sell a million of stock; making the public pay high for service so the watered stock can pay dividends.

At last the middle class is defined. It is the one that earns enough to pay income tax and hasn't enough influence to dodge it.

Heaven, for a lot of people, will be a place full of private affairs for them to meddle in.

Queer world. How quickly the people would rise and wipe out invaders who did as much harm as professional criminals do.

THE FINAL TEST OF SMARTNESS IS TO BE THE BOSS AND YET NOT FIRE A MAN BECAUSE HE IS SMARTER THAN YOU ARE.

Now that we have a Mother's Day and a Dad's Day, it leaves only 363 for Daughter.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

This morning we was eating breakfist and pop looked at his watch, saying, Time flies, where's that boiled egg?

It's coming, my lands, ma said.

Giving me a ideer, and I said, Hay pop, I had a dreem last nite, do you want me to tell it to you?

Pop genrelly not liking to hear dreems or movie plots, and he said, Was it a short simple dreem?

No sir, it was kind of long and mixed up, but I remember every bit of it, I said, and pop said, That's fine, there's nothing can take the place of a good memory, unless perhaps a pencil and a little notbook, wich of corse would be too heavy to carry around in a dreem. But I'm in rather a hurry now, save it for me till you've had time to forget it, I mean till some time when I have more leezure, he said.

Now Wiliyum I think that's mean, why cant you lissen to the child's innocent dreem? ma said, and pop said, But yee gods I'm in a hurry this morning.

But you haff to wait for your egg, ma said, and I said, There was about 10 parts to this dreem, the ferst part I dreemed I was up a tree in a jungle, and there was a tiger waiting underneeth and a rattlesnake crawling up, and at ferst I thawt it was a apple tree and I looked again and G wizz it was a coconut tree, and I looked closer and holey smokes what do you think it was?

It was proberly ony a dreem, I'm sorry but I haff to go now, pop said, and ma said, But Willyum how about your egg?

Give it my best regards, pop said. And he hurry up went out, and there was just enough time left for ma to sine my report without me being late for school, so she quick sined it without hardly noticing how bum a report it was.

Being proberly just the thing pop would of noticed if I hadn't of helped him remember he was in a hurry.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files 14 Years Ago Today

June 16, 1919

Preliminary steps towards the formation of the "Service Men's association of Orange County" had been taken at a meeting in Santa Ana city hall attended by 35 returned service men from Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. Delegates to the central governing council to meet June 19 were named. Santa Anans selected included Louis A. Riehl, Maurice Enderle, Charles D. Swanner, Cornish Roehm, Stanley Reinhaus, Floyd Mitchell, George Platt and Dr. H. N. Brothers.

At a special meeting of the board of supervisors, decision was reached to permit fishing in the lake at Orange county park on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month from 4 to 7 p. m. There are bass, perch and catfish in the lake, and some good sport was anticipated. The move was made because the lake was to be dried during the summer in order to clear out water weeds, and the fish would have to be sacrificed anyway.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WANTED: BUSINESS STATESMEN

I suspect that the relaxation of the anti-trust laws to permit a modernized self-regulation of the varied fields of business and industry in partnership with the government will, if ably worked out, go down as one of the most far-sighted moves in economic policy made in the last quarter century.

One aspect of this move deserves attention.

Mr. Roosevelt wants to see the truly and able and socially minded leadership of every industrial field really in control of the field.

The trouble with laissez faire capitalism has been that all-too-often its leadership has fallen into the hands of practical men without a broad understanding of economic forces and tendencies.

The trouble with unqualified government operation has been that all too often its leadership has fallen into the hands of men who, although possessed of a good understanding of economic forces and tendencies, have lacked practical business experience.

He is setting the stage for an experiment in controlled or rather coached capitalism which, in my judgment, is the most hopeful way out of capitalism's plight.

But, I repeat, both government and industry must raise up a new type—the economic statesman.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

HOME LIFE

The children of today are living under hard conditions. The homes are distressed and the people are not themselves. Little things that in ordinary times would trouble nobody are big with trouble. Laughter is scarce and brief. Silence, gloom, harsh words and moody tempers are prevalent.

Nobody is to blame for this. It is the anxiety for the safety and welfare of the children that make most of it. If we were the only sufferers lack of money, food, clothes, recreation and work would not be so bad but when we see this hardship reacting on the helpless children our nerves snap. All this affects the children. They store the memories of these days and it is upon memories that we live and work and the quality of both are influenced by them.

Even school that usually comes to the rescue has been affected. The teachers are overworked and underpaid. The pressure of home needs has been heavy upon them. Small wonder if tempers are short and words are harsh. We must be patient one with the other for the sake of the children. They had no share in bringing about our misfortunes. Their lives lie ahead in the future and we help ourselves most when we help them.

Just how to help them is hard for me to say. But we must try. There is no sense in trying to keep facts from them if they are old enough to understand them. It is better to say, "We have no money to buy new shoes, to take you on a trip, to send you to private school," than to let the child wonder why you do as you do. Explain. Do it as cheerfully as you can, ask the children's co-operation, work together and let the child feel that he is helping.

Teach them to be especially kind to father. He is having a very bad time. He is trying to bear up under a strain that is tensing every nerve and muscle and affection and help from his children will relieve him greatly. The close association of the family now will give the children an understanding of home and family in days to come that will prove worth while to them. The home background which they helped to build will mean more to them and sustain them better than the one you might have reared without their help.

Try to talk cheerfully. Tell the old stories of pioneer days. Take the makeshifts and the sacrifices as part of the day's work. Don't feel so bad for the children. They are not suffering mentally as you do. You put your emotions over on them but they are unconscious of them. They don't worry about giving up the car, moving to a smaller house, going to another school, as you do. Life holds too much of adventure for them. They don't see your way of looking at things because they do not stand where you stand.

Tell them the truth as far as they can understand it. Ask for their cooperation, let them know they please you, and stick together until we come through. We are coming through by and by and there is nothing to fear. Let not your heart be troubled, was meant for these days.
